Days of Our Lives

Barons are always on the go as they work to obtain their goals through their jobs and hobbies and pursue their interests in parties, dances, and music; like sands through the hour glass, so are "The Days of Their Lives."

HEAD OF THE CLASS

While some Barons excel academically out of school in the band or science fair, other DeKalb students strive for academic success at school. The new academic teams compete enthusiastically as all Barons move to "The Head of the Class."

The Bold and the Beautiful

The bright shining faces that join the original line up in this year's cast of Baron students show their smiles in "The Bold and the Beautiful."

DIFFERENT STROKES

DeKalb Barons are a diverse breed. They express their varying interests as they choose which organizations will provide "Different Strokes" for different folks.

The Young And The Restless

The mighty Barons strut their stuff as they charge into action in every sporting event. "The Young and the Restless" of DeKalb High School are at their best as they turn their opponents into the old and the tired.

And now a word from our sponsors . . .

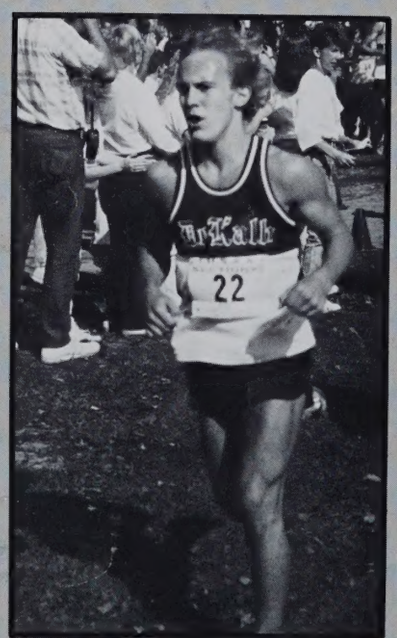
The popular musical "Grease" (right) played to three sold-out performances for the dinner theater in February.

Getting the year into gear for Campus Life, many Barons enjoy the Burger Bash held on the school's south lawn.

Running to success in the sectional is senior stand-out Chris Dove. In cooperation with the International Sports Exchange, Chris ran in Germany over Christmas break, taking part in a marathon-distance relay race.



After we arrived for the first day of school on August 21, it didn't take long to settle into the same old familiar routine — with two exceptions. The freshmen, of course, had the problem of adjusting to a new building. And the rest of us had to adjust to the idea of seven 50 minute periods instead of six 60 minute periods in the day. This meant several minor differences as well, such as larger study halls and a chance to take more elective subjects.

Once we got with the program, however, and got our schedules fine tuned, everything seemed to be on track. Of course, many of us had been working long before opening day — marching, running, serving, blocking, passing, etc., in hopes of making a good show for ourselves.

The Northeast Hoosier Conference replaced the old NEIAC and we enthusiastically entered competition not only in athletics, but also in academics and activities, winning at least our share of championships.

As the year passed and we went from the 80's into the 90's, each new day at DHS brought each of us new opportunities to TUNE IN TO WDHS.

SENIOR POLL

Whom did they choose as the future leaders and laggers? In a poll taken for the 1990 Saber, the Seniors were able to make their choice. After a period of tabulation, the following results can be reported.

Voted as Most Likely to Succeed were Brad Woodcox and Beth Brechbill. Brad was also named as Most Studious, this time with Lisa Ziarnko.

For Best Personality Matt Disch and Anna Miller won the support of their classmates. Anna was also voted Class Clown along with Brent Winebrenner.

Named Most Athletic were Tom Findley and Lisa Hefty, and Dave Kennedy and Michelle Coleman were named Most Talented.

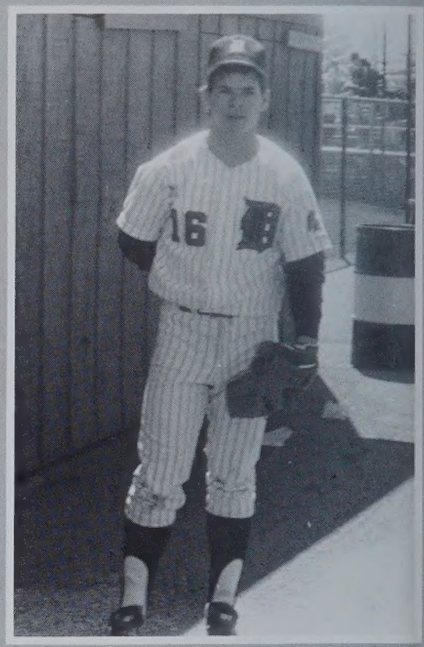
Tara Stayer and Chris Dove were the choice for the Neatest Car/Truck. Dave Harris and Tara Stayer were voted as the Best Dressed of the class.

Most School Spirit was given to Kevin Neumann and Jenny Young, while Brad Woodcox and Lisa Hefty were selected as being Most Valuable.

One category that had a close vote was Biggest Partier. Missy Crager easily won for the biggest partier for the girls while Thad Nixon barely beat Ross Quaintance, Mike Nadeau, and Darrin John for the guys.



Tom Findley and Lisa Hefty were voted most athletic by their fellow classmates.

Voted as having the neatest cars were Tara Stayer and Chris Dove, Tara was also best dressed.

Three time winner, Brad Woodcox poses with Beth Brechbill, Lisa Hefty, and Lisa Ziarnko, his female counterparts.

Some might wonder who had the best personality among seniors. The poll said Matt Disch and Anna Miller.

Kevin Neumann and Jenny Young definitely look like they have the most school spirit.

Dave Kennedy and Michelle Coleman were voted as most talented. Here Dave plays Arthur in "Camelot."

Biggest partiers Missy Crager and Thad Nixon pose with class clowns Anna Miller and Brent Winebrenner.

FALL PLAY

On the night of November 11 and the afternoon of November 12 the auditorium was opened up for the presentation of "Amadeus."

Amadeus takes place in Vienna in 1823. It is the story of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (Jason Schnelker) as told by Antonio Slaieri (David Kennedy). The play deals mostly with Mozart's struggle to rise to fame and what he had to go through to get there.

The production was directed by Kent and Shelley Johnson with assistance from student directors Angie Sproat and Cara Glassie. The play was also assisted by Stage Manager Wendy Palubicki, Floor Manager Gina Betz, and all the members of the cast and crew.

SPECIAL DAYS

Special days have special meanings. The most common meaning among high school students is that school is "cancelled." Some of the favorite special days include ACD Days, fair day, and the annual powder puff game.

During ACD Days many high school students worked at the famous Kruse International Classic Car Auction. Some ran concessions, others washed cars, and the rest hauled garbage or took tickets.

At the fair many students had entries in 4-H, which gave them an excuse to miss school. Other less fortunate students had to wait for school to be finished for the day or for Friday's fair day. Many students raised money while at the fair while others went for the enjoyment.

In keeping with the tradition, the senior powder puff team will leave the game as they entered it as juniors: defeated. The junior team went into the game willing to win and came out victorious.

A group of girls separate themselves from their dates to have time to be together and dance at the Christmas dance.

Twisting the night away, Dari West shows the rest of the DeKalb students how to get down and boogie at an after-game dance.

DANCES

As any other high school students need relaxation from the tension of a good sporting event, DeKalb students are no different.

To relieve this tension, dances were held with various themes to insure that they weren't boring.

The first theme used was Halloween. Students dressed up as everything from flashers to members of the band Kiss. This dance was followed by a very successful Christmas semi-formal sponsored by the Art Club. But the big dance that no one was sure whether or not it would happen was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. But with a lot of work, not to mention luck, it was able to be pulled off and the dance was a huge success.

Along with the many big dances there were the ever popular dances that were held after home football and basketball games. Although these dances were not as announced, they were just as exciting. So overall, dances help raise the spirit of our student body.

Ben Peverly, Cina Higgins, Shawn Gonzalez, and Jenny Sprague show their school spirit by dressing up for the Halloween dance.

WHAT'S IN?

As fads come and go around the Barons, they are bound to end up here in some form or another. Whatever is popular in fashion, music, or television can be seen at DeKalb. The Barons use these fads and their own creativity to create a personal statement or show the world their attitude.

From tattered jeans to suits to sweats, it all can be seen in the halls. With some of the student body wearing miniskirts or shorts in the winter while others wear sweaters in the spring, it provides a variety for all to enjoy.

Music preferences ran wild on the Saber poll. Choices went from rap to pop/rock. Popular artists included NWA, Paula Abdul, and Metallica. But the least favored style of music was country. With most topics divided and clear winners difficult to find, the poll was sometimes close. The only time it was obvious was when Bart Simpson was the most popular celebrity to be found here.

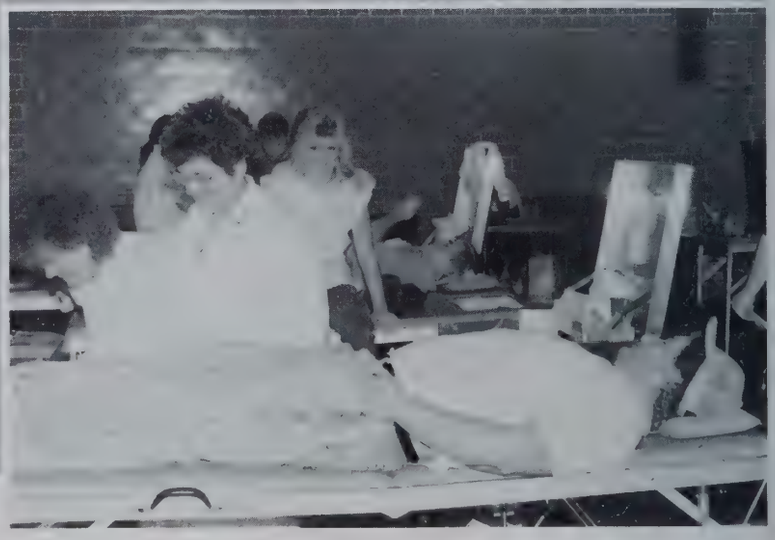
Hair styles that seemed most popular were the long, straight styles. People with overdone and overstyled hair seem to be in the minority. Hangouts that seem to rule included McDonalds, Skooters, Owens, and Big Wheel.

\ccording to most Barons, McDonald's vas considered to be one of the most opular hangouts.

Nicole Freed, Colette Carthen, and Sharmin Purdy use homeroom to talk about what is going on in and out of school.

Cherry Menges and Tina Conrad use twin day as a way of expressing their school spirit and somewhat identical personalities.

Edye Heminger and Shannon Bolen stop at one of the many booths set up for College Day to get information on a college.



Stan Shipe's giving all he's got, that is all the blood he has, when the bloodmobile came to the high school.

Suzanne Jernigan concentrates on the routine as she performs with the Brigadiers at one of the convos.

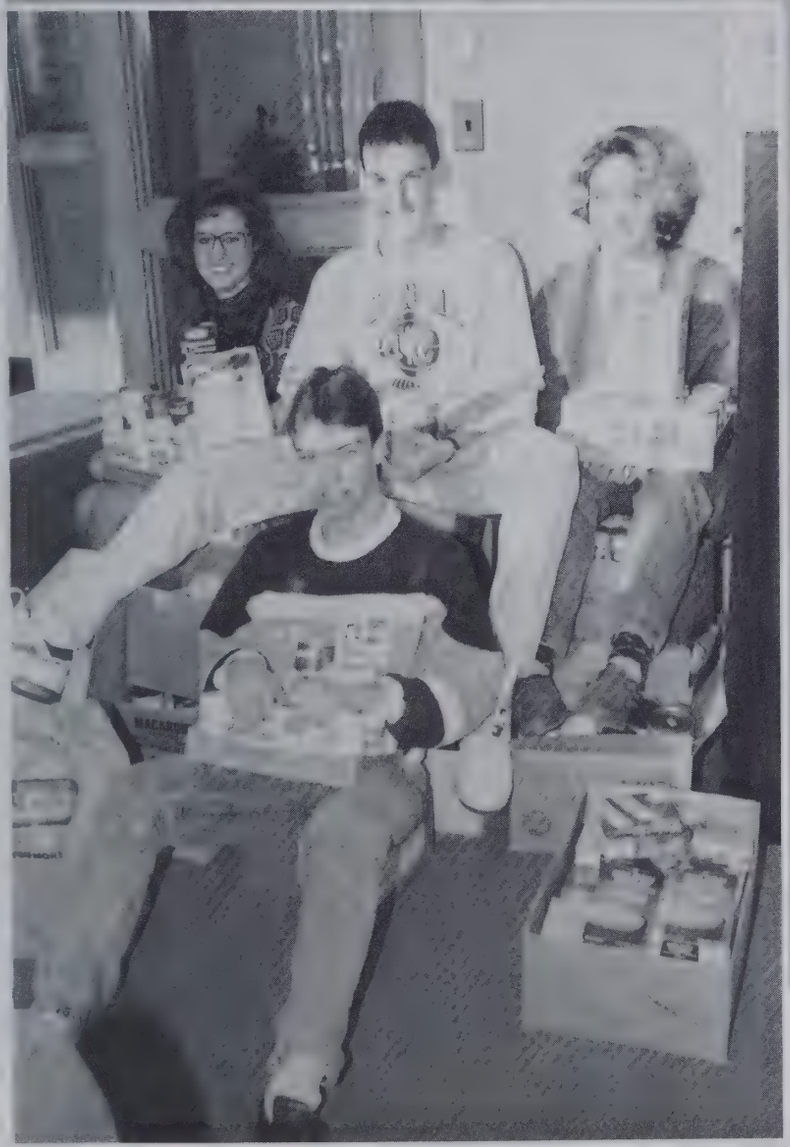
Everyone needs a little break from the normal school day to help relieve the tension from the homework and teachers and, somedays, even the students. To help relieve the tension from other students, as well as themselves, the faculty and Student Council worked together to set up educational and non-educational convos for the student body. They also set aside days so the student body could express their individual and sometimes identical personalities or help collect things needed by others.

One week was set aside for the Barons to show their school spirit by dressing according to the specified style of the day.

When the bloodmobile arrived the Barons were more than willing to give blood, especially when they got out of class to do so.

Another spirit raising time came when National Honor Society gave prizes to the person from each class that brought in the most canned goods during the food drive.

Overall, taking a break and raising spirits through these breaks kept the Barons easy going and less stressed.



Student Council and National Honor Society members work on organizing the food brought in during the food drive.

Some third year German students enjoy themselves as they perform a skit for a class assignment.

SPARE TIME

The DHS organizations offer many activities to fill spare time. Barons also fill their spare time through hobbies, friends, family, and many other activities.

After the school day is finished and the time is theirs to do with as they please, to fill the time Barons go out to eat, shop, go to movies, or cruise.

Because filling spare time can become costly, many Barons find it necessary to have a job to offset the cost. This helps, but for the ones without jobs they try to keep costs down by renting movies or calling friends over to catch a movie on Showtime, HBO, or the Movie Channel.

For the more athletic and active there are always activities such as tag or tackle football, basketball, softball, baseball, bowling, or aerobics. These activities can be done to fill time or to keep in shape.

Other events that help keep boredom to a miminum are parties, games, dances, and the long-awaited vacations that allow students to get out of state.

No matter how long or short the time is, Barons can find a way to fill it and enjoy themselves doing it.

HOLIDAYS

Holidays seem to be the ruler of every student's life. The main reasons are that they bring everyone closer together and they get out of school. Some of the more powerful ones are Christmas, Veteran's Day, St. Patrick's Day, and Valentine's Day.

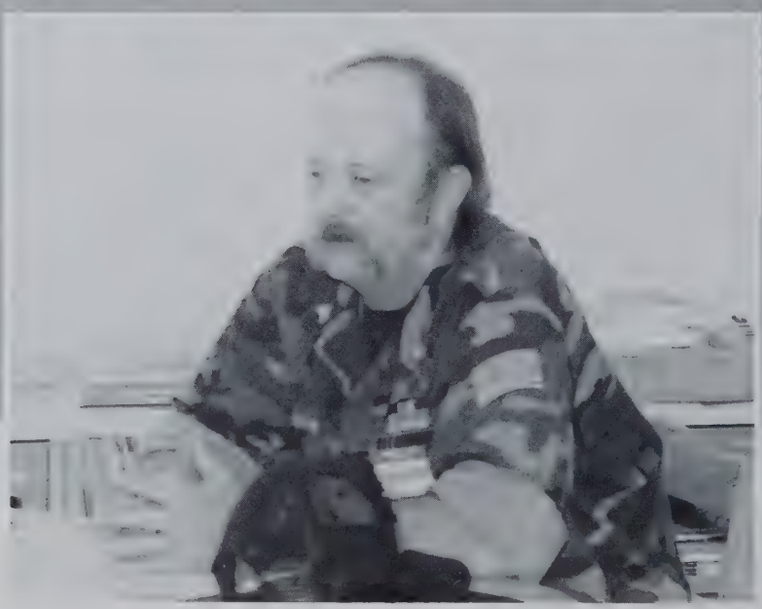
During late November and all December the Christmas spirit was running high. When school was cancelled the last day before Christmas vacation, it only raised the spirits all the higher. The only problem with the cancellation was that the Christmas convo happened in January. The selling of Treegrams helped to carry the Baron's spirits over the edge.

For Veteran's Day the student body asked friends and family vets to come in and share their experiences and stories. For Valentine's Day the French Club supplemented the spirit by selling carnations to send to friends.

St. Patrick's Day came and went with the selling of shamrocks by the National Honor Society to help raise money for Muscular Dystrophy.

To show her school spirit, Nicole Farrington takes part in the Halloween Dance dressed as a cat.

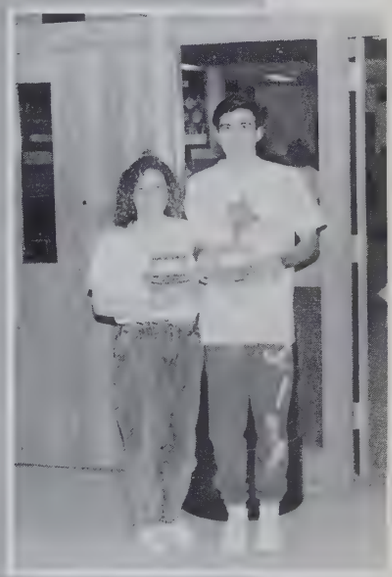
Helping to spread Christmas cheer to all, the Spanish Club goes caroling at Betz Nursing Home.



Explaining his views about war, veteran Tommy Boder tells about his own personal experiences in the Vietnam war.

Jammin' Joy Kroemer shows the rest of the show choir that there's more than one way to sing Christmas songs.

Jason Schnelker and Santa Claus get together to talk about what Jason wants for Christmas.



Josh Durst and Sarah Grimm stop to pose for their picture while delivering shamrocks to help fight M.D.

Rudolph, alias Kathy Myers, and the rest of the show choir sing Christmas carols at the belated Christmas convocation.

DINNER THEATER

Grease was the musical selected for the second annual dinner theater. This popular musical was performed once on February 2 and twice on February 4.

The fried chicken dinner, provided by Big Dave's Drive-In, better known as the Auburn House Restaurant, was served on stage. The audience also sat on the stage and were able to feel really close to the action.

The play centers around the reunion of the class of 1959 from Rydell High School. It happens through flashbacks to their high school lives and the fond memories they had with one another.

The dinner theater was an obvious success, selling out for all three performances. The only problem was overcrowding on the Sunday evening performance.

Shelley and Kent Johnson directed this production with assistance from student director Molly McCart. Also assisting were Wendy Palubicki, Kathy Myers, and Brandy Mettert making up the stage crew. The pit band members were Darren McKown, Brad Anderson, Jeremy Western, and Shelley Johnson.

BARON REVUE

Muppet Madness was the name given to the 1990 Baron Revue, the annual variety show presented on Monday, March 12, in the auditorium. A near-capacity crowd was entertained for over two hours.

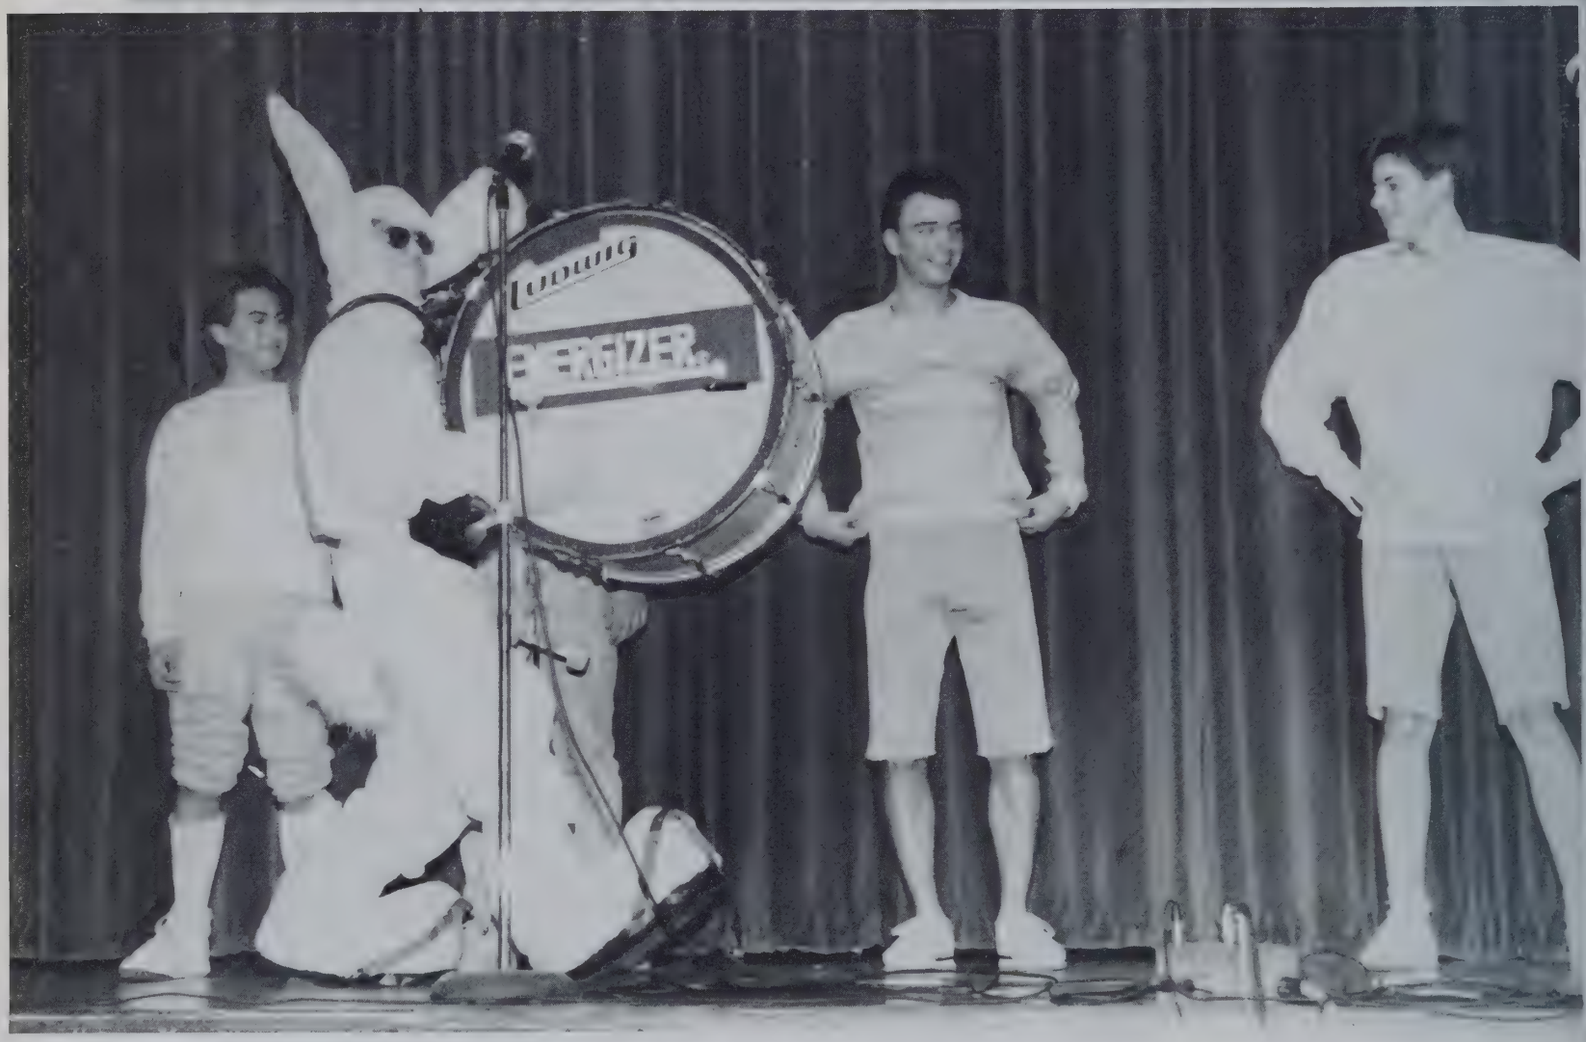
The very talented Brigadiers performed several numbers during the evening. Musical accompaniment was provided by the Pep Band.

From classical to jazz to rock 'n' roll, musical talents were displayed. The jazz band presented several numbers, piano solos were played by Kathy Myers, James Kessler, and Tiffani Cook; Geoff Preston pounded out a solo on his drums; and several other musicians "wowed" the audience.

A wide range of skits included John Haney confusing everyone with "new math" and later teaming with James Kessler to discuss "Who's on First."

Perhaps the evening's most memorable skit (most gross) was "Iron Gut," which involved four students brushing their teeth on stage and finally disposing of the rinse water.

Miss Piggy, alias Alison Hoff, welcomes the audience to Muppet Madness, the Baron Revue.



To the delight of the audience, the Energizer Bunny thumps across the stage to interrupt Hanz and Franz.

Betsy Jo, better known as Tammy Brown, provides entertainment as she takes part in the Miss Baron Revue Contest.

Providing vocals for their rock band, 13th Floor, are Jason Smith and Daryl Trufant.

Coproducers Jason "Wood Eye" Phillips and Ed "Big Nose" Messer perform a skit about the problems of misunderstanding.

SPRING BREAK?

Spring Break came a week late for the unlucky Barons that were stuck in Indiana. The sunny, warm weather from the week before was a sharp contrast to the cold temperatures that were here for all to enjoy during the actual week of Spring Break.

The most popular spot to escape to during the break was Florida. Many Barons went down to enjoy the sun, the sand, and the water with friends and family. The Campus Life group took its annual trip to Smyrna Beach while the Show Choir and Girls Choir went down to perform at Disney's Epcot Center.

Some Barons were off to states other than Florida to visit friends and family they hadn't seen in a while. The unlucky Barons stuck at home decided to work extra hours to earn more money that would help them get away on the next break. Many others decided to take it easy over the break and just went out with friends.

Spring Break was also a time for the teachers to get away and do something they enjoy. Some went out of state to visit friends and family while others stayed here to figure grades.

Whether they stayed in or out of state, teachers and students found something to do during the long awaited Spring Break.

SPRING MUSICAL

The selection for the spring musical was "Camelot". It was put on by the DeKalb High School Choir Department on the evenings of April 27 and 28.

Directors for the production were Kent and Shelley Johnson. Student director/stage manager was Wendy Palubicki. She was assisted by the stage crew of Aaron Ginder and Kevin Sells with Joel Dennison on lights. Music was provided by pianist Sondra Franks and the pit band directed by Richard Karkosky.

King Arthur (Dave Kennedy) and his wife Guenevere (Michelle Coleman) start the Round Table — the greatest Order of Knighthood. Soon Lancelot (Matt Hoham) arrives and is considered to be the Round Table's best knight. While Lancelot is there, he falls in love with Guenevere and all three fall when Arthur's son Mordrid (Jason Schnelker) comes to claim the throne.

The musical was accented by an elaborate set including four backdrops, a throne set, terrace and a life size tree. Also in the show was a guest appearance by Alison Hoff's dog, Pepper.

Arthur requests Merlyn to turn him into a hawk so he can fly away from his land of Camelot.

PROM

The time that had been long awaited for came on the evening of May 5, 1990. It was the day that DeKalb juniors and seniors got dressed up, went out to eat somewhere special, and stayed out most of the night.

The theme of the prom was "Midnight Masquerade." The junior class decorated the middle school in streamers and balloons of black, purple, and silver, transforming the commons into a ballroom ready for a masquerade ball. The King and Queen of the prom were announced at 11 p.m. The lucky couple was Beth Martin and Ron Dobson. But it didn't seem long before the cash prizes were given away and the last song was played to bring the 1990 prom to a close.

After prom, many couples returned home to change clothes and go out with friends. Mayor Dickman offered his home as an after prom getaway to all prom attenders looking for something to do between 4 and 7 a.m.

So as the close of the year came, many juniors and seniors had many special memories that they had with their friends at the 1990 prom.

FINE ARTS

The weekend of May 18 was dedicated to honoring the fine arts students of DeKalb. The weekend featured concerts by both the band and choirs, and an art show with the displays supplied by the art classes.

On Friday, May 18, the fine arts weekend began with a choral concert. The entertainment was provided by Mrs. Johnson and three of the choirs she teaches. There were also various solos, including dance, vocal, and piano. The evening came to a close with an awards ceremony.

On Saturday the band performed their jazz show. This show included solos and other routines.

As the finale for the weekend the band presented their spring concert on Sunday. At the end of the concert Mr. Karkosky presented many deserving students with awards.

As an added attraction, and the main reason for the art students to be there, was the art show. Many students displayed their best works for the concert goers, family, and friends to enjoy.

This year's show included a special literature display. This display was provided by the newly formed Literary Club.

AWARDS DAY

On May 16 the junior and senior classes along with their families, teachers, and others from around the community assembled in the auditorium for the 23rd annual Awards Day Program while the sophomores and freshmen listened to it over the PA system. Many seniors received scholarships and awards to help offset the upcoming cost of college. The total of the scholarships went way into the thousands.

Many seniors were honored for being good citizens, having outstanding performance in one of the ten areas offered at DHS, or for community services.

The following seniors were named as four year honor students: Scott Allison, Shayna Bailey, Beth Brechbill, Amy Brook, Lisa Charlesworth, Tina Conrad, Matt Disch, Josh Durst, Shannon Hack, Jerad Hartman, Lisa Hefty, Matt Hoham, Ken Jones, Angie Kelleher, Deb Klein, Jenny Krill, Beth Martin, Ed Messer, and Anna Miller.

Also named as four year honor students were Mike Nadeau, Wes Oswalt, Mike Payne, Jason Phillips, Scott Price, Paul Raver, Lisa Rieke, Jason Schnelker, Brian Shuman, Bryan Sorg, Kim Speer, Pete Stafford, Cindy Stout, Trent Stuckey, Terri Traxler, Brent Walker, Jacqui Wallace, Erik Weber, Laura Wertman, Dari West, Jason Whittington, Brad Woodcox, and Lisa Ziarnko.

Overall, Awards Day was very rewarding for those who received something.

For the first time, outstanding seniors were honored by departments. The winners and the presenters were Todd Deskins and Mr. Robert Voelkel, Industrial Arts; Jerad Hartman and Mr. Bill Moree, Math; Matt Disch and Mr. Greg Vick, Foreign Language; Jason Phillips and Mr. Dick Karkosky, Music; Amy Brook and Mrs. Ina Walton, English; Heather Rekeweg and Mrs. Jan Nagel, Art; Ken Jones and Mr. Dale Hummer, Social Studies; Diane Schoudel and Mr. Gary Hillabrand, Business; Lisa Hefty and Mr. Dave Gurtner, Vocational Arts; and Scott Allison and Mr. Richard Barber, Science.

Graduation brought its share of joy to all the 1990 graduates including Angie Presley.

GRADUATION

On May 27 at 2 p.m. on the C.E. Young Field, 250 students were more than ready to accept their diploma and leave the hallowed halls of DHS. The graduation ceremony was the third to be held outside.

The ceremony followed the traditional outline with a slight interruption when the senior class honored Dr. Watson and Mr. Fites for their years of service and dedication.

Five seniors gave speeches: Lisa Hefty, Invocation; Scott Allison, Welcome; Beth Brechbill, Intention; Matt Disch, Farewell; and Angie Kelleher, Benediction.

The highlight came when Dave Kennedy, Michelle Coleman, and Josh Buzzard sang "Forward," which was composed by Josh Buzzard.

The day was especially rewarding for the twenty-three seniors who received the Academic Honors Diploma: Scott Allison, Shayna Bailey, Beth Brechbill, Amy Brook, Daryl Christensen, Carrie Cooney, Ben Crawford, Jenny Detrick, Matt Disch, Josh Durst, Sarah Grimm, Shannon Hack, Kirk Hertsel, Angie Kelleher, Deb Klein, Jenny Krill, Beth Martin, Ed Messer, Anna Miller, Jason Phillips, Brian Shuman, Tara Stayer, and Jason Whittington.

Row one of the senior class patiently awaits for their moment to receive their high school diplomas.

Creativity Is Encouraged In These Two Departments

Art and Home Economics are classes designed to help any individual single out his creativity. The classes consist of different areas for the students to choose from.

The art classes obtained many of their goals. They allowed students to draw, paint, sculpt, and design whatever their imagination brought to mind. Many students were busy with competing for the Scholastic Arts Awards. DHS had two blue-ribbon finalists: Rebecca Nolan, 12, ceramics, and Liberty Scholler, 10, pencil drawing.

Others receiving recognition, with their grade and category: Dan Brinkerhoff, 10, ceramics; Jessica Campbell, 11, ceramics; Shelly DePew, 12, ceramics; Gena Jones, 12, jewelry, metalsmithing; Piper Merrell, 10, sculpture; Brian Miller, 10, pencil drawing; Rikako Usui, 12, jewelry, metalsmithing; and Annette Young, 12, fiber arts, textile design.

Home Economics contains clothing class, Foods 9, 1, and 11, Child Develoment, Housing, and Family Relations. Housing classes went on group field trips. The foods group did an outstanding job serving teachers an excellent Thanksgiving meal in addition to other meals during the year. Child development included a day-care class having children of different ages brought in for comparison and observation. Family relations prepared the students for their own future family lives.

"What is it?" Jenny Mossing's young friend wonders during observation day in Child Development class.

BARON BRIGADE BRIGADIERS

Two Trips To Hoosier Dome Make For A Memorable Year

In Indiana, many groups start the year with the goal of making it to the Hoosier Dome, but few do. The Baron Brigade made it — not once, but twice. In the state ISSMA competition, they placed fourth in both the district and regional to advance to the Dome, where they placed seventh in Class B. The Brigade's other Dome appearance was in the Grand Nationals of the MBA, where they placed 22nd.

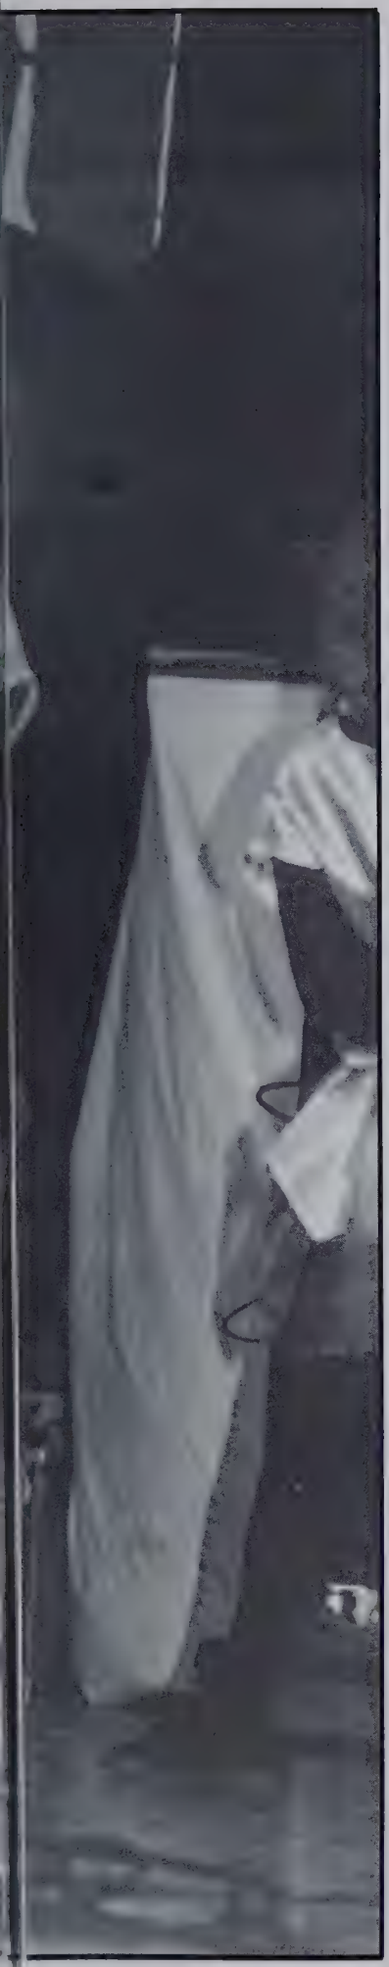
The Brigade hosted the first-ever Northeast Hoosier Conference band contest and placed second behind first place Homestead. They also took part in several other contests to prepare for state. Those events and results: Concord Invitational (3rd), East Noble Band-o-Rama (3rd), Homestead Invitational (2nd), and Norwell Invitational (3rd).

The Brigadiers were an integral part of the Brigade. In addition, they performed at home basketball games and took part in the ever-popular Baron Revue.

The Pep Band, composed of over 50 band students, also played at all home basketball games, where they received many favorable comments about the spirit they had and managed to infect the crowd with. The Pep Band also played a part in the Baron Revue.

Adding lots of spirit to all home basketball games was the pep band, shown above as "Mr. K" leads them.

Their lone parade competition sees the Brigade earning Grand Champion honors in the DeKalb County Fair parade.



Taking part in the first Northeast Hoosier Conference marching competition, the Baron Brigade does well, finishing second behind Homestead.

Jenny Redmond concentrates on getting the beat right as she helps the Brigade perform its show for the student body in the gym.

BAND DEPARTMENT

Jason Phillips Is Named To All State Honor Bands

Instrumental musicians at DHS have three bands to choose from: Concert, Symphonic, and Jazz. All three bands meet for an hour a day to polish their skills to prepare for various concerts and the ISSMA contest. Major concerts were the Christmas Concert, Pops Concert, the County Band Festival, and the Spring Concert. In addition, the Jazz Band played for a Valentines Dinner Dance, the Baron Revue, and the Fine Arts Jazz Concert.

In ISSMA competition, the Symphonic Band placed in Division I in Group II; the Concert Band got Division II in Group IV; and the Jazz Band earned Division I in Group III. They also appeared at the Elmhurst Jazz Festival, where they got an award for outstanding sax section, and the North Side Jazz Festival.

In the solo and ensemble contest, there were 27 Division I winners, with 14 qualifying for state, but not everyone went to state because of extremely bad weather that day. Eight did receive Division I at state. In solos they were Vicki Reichard, Sheena Groat, Jason Phillips, Ben Peverly, and Misty Farver. Three ensembles (sax trio, quartet, and sextet) also got Division I.

Special recognition came to senior Jason Philips, who was named to the All State Jazz Band and the All State Concert Band.

The band ended the year on a pleasant note, playing at Cedar Point on May 12.

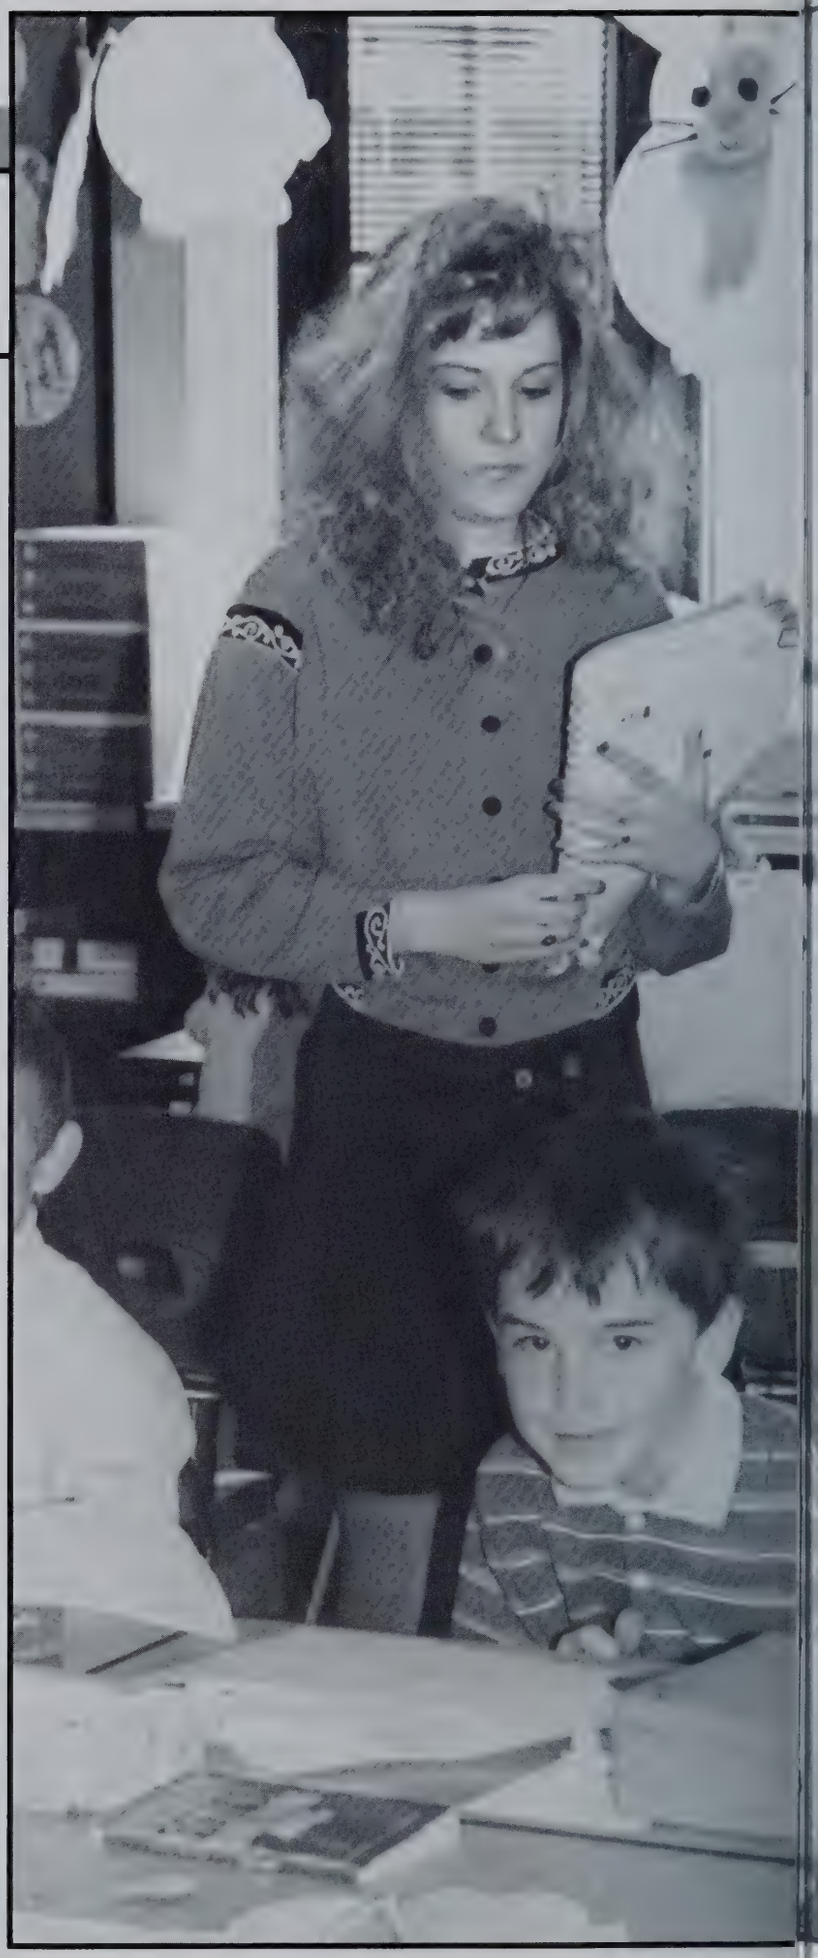
Concert Band: Libby Barry, Marc Bowling, Tracy Carper, Candy Cluster, Josh Collins, Joel Dennison, Tami Doden, Regina Frost, Todd Garman, Tonya Glick, Josh Johnson, Christy Jones, Amy Leffel, Seth Leis, John Lock, Shelly Maugherman, Alex Pinnington, Vicki Reichard, Laura Rutter, Traci Smeltzer, Angie Smolek, Jenny Sprague, Sam Sprankle, Amie Springer, David Teegardin, Patty Vetter, Jenny Wleklinski.

Symphonic Band: Kristy Adams, Scott Allison, Heather Buckmaster, Tanessa Burnett, Ben Crawford, Joel Dennison, Josh Durst, Todd Glick, Shannon Hack, Tim Kessler, Deborah Klein, Jenny Krill, Beth Martin, Ed Messer, Kathy Myers, Mike Nadeau, Jason Phillips, Vicki Reichard, Angie Robuck, David Wellman, Brian Camarata, Robin Carper, Tiffani Cook, Angie Gilbert, Sheena Groat, John Haney, Alison Hoff, Heather Lane, Rob Lenhart, Brandy Mettert, Eric Miller, Brad Peart, Geoff Preston, Dan Shirk, Jason Smith, David Teegardin, Josh Appleman, Libby Barry, Tonya Dove, Misty Farver, Dan Funk, Issy Graves, Adam Hill, Eric John, James Kessler, Aaron Likens, Londa Louthan, Julie Madden, Pat Martin, Emily Miller, Sally Peart, Scott Pommert, Tracey Rowe, Abby Smith, Rita Smith, Amy Springer, Cathy Wilshere, Crystal Aalders, Jenny Beaty, Toby Blech, Tammy Bolton, Melissa Dickson, Jeremy Friedel, Ben Garrison, John Hamman, Jason Harper, Bob Hedden, Patrick Horwitz, Jamie Ketzenberger, Jim Krill, Ryan Lockhart, Andy McCanna, Andy Messer, Seannan Mettert, Brian Neal, Jason Neumann, Seth Paske, Tom Peet, Ben Peverly, Kent Prosser, Jenny Redmond, Mike Richter, Peggy Sanders, Tim Strawser, Amy Wilcoxson.

Jazz Band: Sax: Jason Phillips, Shannon Hack, Ben Peverly, Andy McCanna, John Hamman, Andy Messer, Jamie Ketzenberger. Trombone: Jim Krill, Jenny Krill, Patrick Horwitz. Trumpet: Scott Allison, Dan Funk, Scott Pommert, David Wellman. Rhythm: Ed Messer, Josh Appleman, Libby Barry, James Kessler.

Playing for the Jazz Band's Valentines Day Dinner Dance held at the middle school is trombonist Patrick Horwitz.

Social Studies Keeps Touch With The Outside World



Debbie Bush teaches Laurie Deardorff's third grade class at East Auburn for her Exploratory Teaching assignment.

The Social Studies classes that students can choose from consist of U.S. History, World History, Current Social Problems, Government, Economics, Sociology, Psychology, and Advanced Psychology.

In the Current Social Problems class, students use Time magazine to read about events in today's world and then discuss their views towards them.

U.S. History, taught on three different levels, begins with the Revolutionary War and focuses down through the preent, trying to survey events of the past and compare them to recent occurences.

World History begins First Semester with the prehistoric age through 1200-1300 A.D. and picks up second semester from there through the present.

Government classes are taught topically. They cover the origin of government, civil rights, comparative government, political parties, the three branches of government and foreign policies. Sociology focuses on the origin of culture and variation changes, values, sanctions, personalities, collective behavior, family, and crime.

Exploratory Teaching offered students the opportunity to practice their teaching skills. The class offers a hands-on experience for students interested in becoming teachers. This year they visited IPFW listening to Dr. Keller as a guest speaker. Other speakers included principals of various elementary schools. They also worked with the preschool for the handicapped.

During the second semester, each student was assigned to a middle school or elementary teacher for a daily teaching experience, meeting back at the high school every third Monday so that their progress could be monitored.

DHS had a team entered in the Academic Super Bowl for the first time in 1990. With the general topic being Greece, the team competed in the areas of social studies, math, English, science, and fine arts. They entered three competitions, the most important being the district contest where the English team of Angie Kelleher, Scott Deetz, Elizabeth Sonnenberg, and Katy Southern placed first with a perfect score. They advanced to state, where they placed seventh in the state in Class One. The team was coached by Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart and Mr. Jim Adang.

It's group-work day as Chris Heffley, Nick Pranger, and Scott Foster work on their U.S. History assignment.

Classic Connection Makes Trip To Walt Disney World

The Choral Department has two special choirs that are mainly performance choirs. They are the Show Choir and the Jazz Choir, also known as the Classic Connection and the Jazz Annex. Both choirs had a very busy year.

The Classic Connection participated in many competitive contests and entertaining concerts. Among their many performances were the Bluffton (lst place) and DeKalb (lst place) street fairs. They also performed at Bishop Luers (lst runner up), Mt. Zion (4th runner up), and Watseka (2nd runner up). They received a First Place at the ISSMA in Group I.

The big event this year for the Show Choir was their trip to Florida. They spent a week in Disney World, but the trip wasn't all play. They had to work hard for their performance down there.

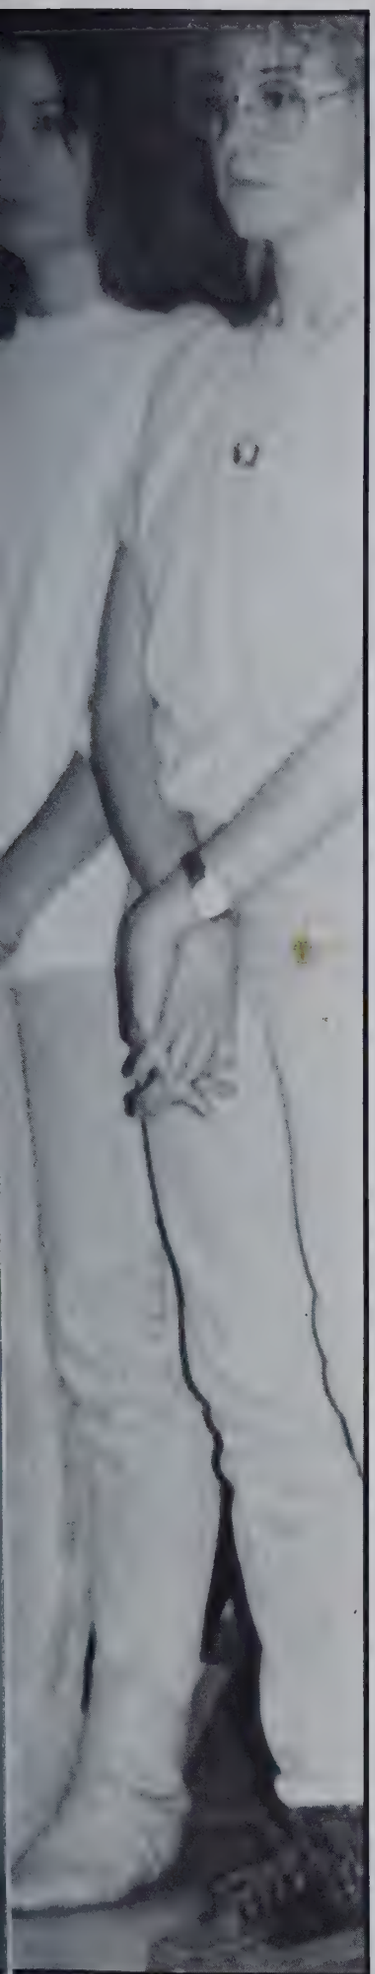
When asked what Show Choir meant to them, this is how the following students responded: "Show Choir is a way to make new and meaningful friends, and to experience the excitement of performing and learning," said Angie Sproat. Greg Boyles said, "Show Choir is a chance to prove yourself." Jeremy Steury commented, "Show Choir is a lot of fun! And it helps you with your future outlooks on life."

"Show Choir means you have pride in what you're doing and you like what you're doing," said Molly McCart. "I'm from Classic Connection and I'm here to say that I'll rock the mike in a kickin' way. With singing and dancing and lots of fun. We'll show you that we're number one. So come on out and wish us luck, 'cause we're CC Jammin' and we like to rock," rapped Josh Buzzard.

The Jazz Annex received a second division ranking in Group I at the ISSMA contest. They also took part in many community performances. Both choirs were under the direction of Mrs. Shelley Johnson.

Competition in the fall included the DeKalb County Fair, where the Classic Connection received the First Place trophy.

Stepping out in front for a solo is senior Michelle Coleman, as the Show Choir prepares for a performance.



The Show Choir sings the National Anthem to open the basketball sectional. Members of the Show Choir: Tanessa Burnett, Michelle Coleman, Nicole Farrington, Tammy Ellert, Angie Sproat, Sarah Schmidt, Edye Heminger, Sheri Lewis, Taya Hess, JoAnna Krause, Jennifer Barnhart, Jenny Dunn, Cara Glassie, Joy Kroemer, Shannon Walter, Jessica Shetley, Darla Mann, Molly McCart, JoDe Daub, Josh Buzzard, Matt Hoham, Kent Hertsel, Jason Morton, Jason Coleman, Jeremy Steury, Mark Benbow, Tim Strawser, Michael Carper, Kevin Sells, Greg Boyles, Jason Schnelker, Brent Troxell, Chad DePew, Dave Kennedy, Troy Stahly, Ben Peverly, Bob Hedden, John Carpenter, Ryan Meschberger, Addam Camp. Band Members are Heather Buckmaster, Kathy Myers, Geoff Preston, Brad Anderson. Crew Members are Wendy Palubicki, Tony Wells, Beth Makovicka.

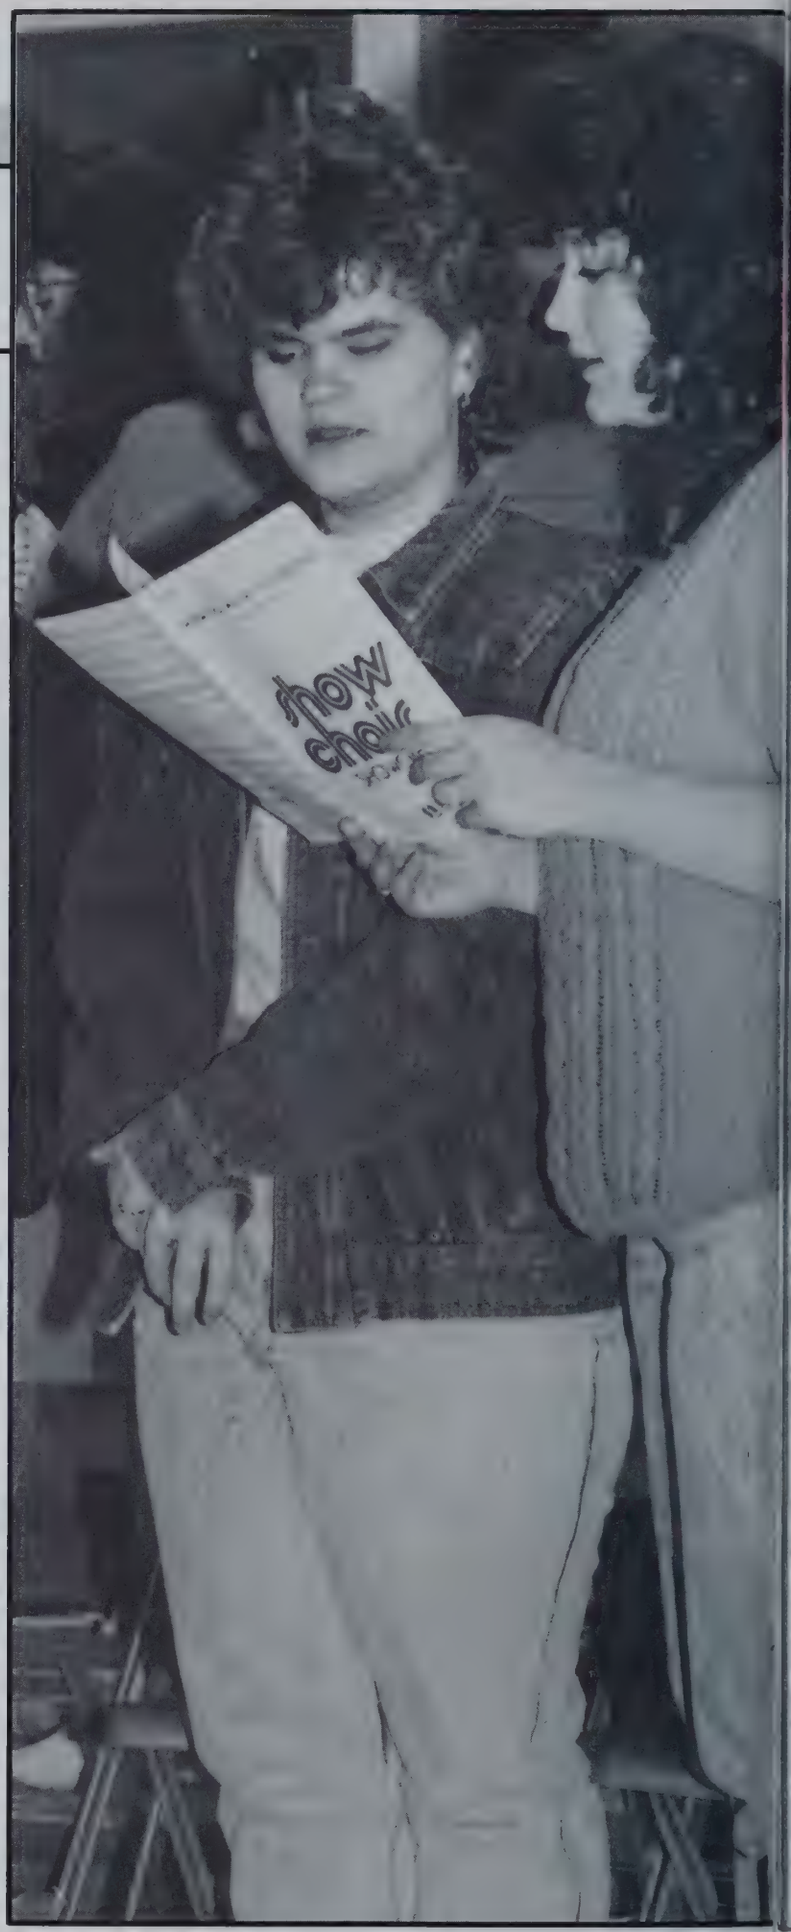
Concert Choir members Heather Fuleki and Christine Hoffman share the music as they take part in practice.



Hours Of Practice Pay Dividends At ISSMA Contest

Besides the Show Choir and the Jazz Choir, the Choral Department contains the Girls Choir and the Concert Choir. Both of the latter two choirs met for one class period each day under the direction of Mrs. Shelley Johnson.

The Concert Choir, as well as the Girls Choir, had a very busy scheduled year. The Girls Choir participated in the Mt. Zion Contest. They also performed at the DeKalb County Fair for an exhibition. They placed first in vocals and sight-reading at the ISSMA contest in group three. They performed at the high school in many concerts throughout the year.

The Concert Choir performed at the Northeast Hoosier Conference Choral Festival. They placed first in group three at the ISSMA contest, just like the Girls Choir did. Among the other performances they participated in were the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert.

Both Amanda Dibble and Kelly Kennedy, above, seem very serious and thoughtful as they work on a song in class.

Girls Choir members get into the rhythm as they perform on stage for visitors to the DeKalb County Fair.

Concert Choir: Angie Barth, Angie Barton, Brenda Boger, Jyl Brown, Heather Buckmaster, Addam Camp, Jessica Carboni, Chris Chaffins, JoDe Daub, Amanda Dibble, Greg Drake, Jenny Dunn, Christie Ellert, Carrie Erwin, Marcy Foster, Heather Fuleki, Jon Gallogly, Jennifer Garn, Aaron Ginder, Izzy Graves, Stacey Groff, Toni Groff, Amy Hanson, Tammy Harmes, Valerie Healey, Taya Hess, Rachel Hicks, Christine Hoffman, Christine Jarnigan, Trent Johnson, Melanie Jones, Kelly Kennedy, Beth Kesler, Randy King, Sheri Lewis, Tanya Livergood, Beth Makovicka, Becky Middaugh, Gabe Miller, Carrie Morrow, Jason Morton, Melissa Musser, Wendy Palubicki, Amy Petre, Amy Reynolds, Melanie Roe, David Scranton, Mindy Schmidt, Tracy Schrader, Moneia Slentz, Tina Souder, Troy Stahly, James Stephens, Faith Stickney, Chass Thompson, Brent Troxell, Kelly Wagner, Shannon Walter, Melissa Wetzel, Heather Zerns.

Does Sally Peart look somewhat bewildered after getting an explanation from her Algebra II teacher, Mr. Fleming?

Business Opportunities Beckon Many Barons

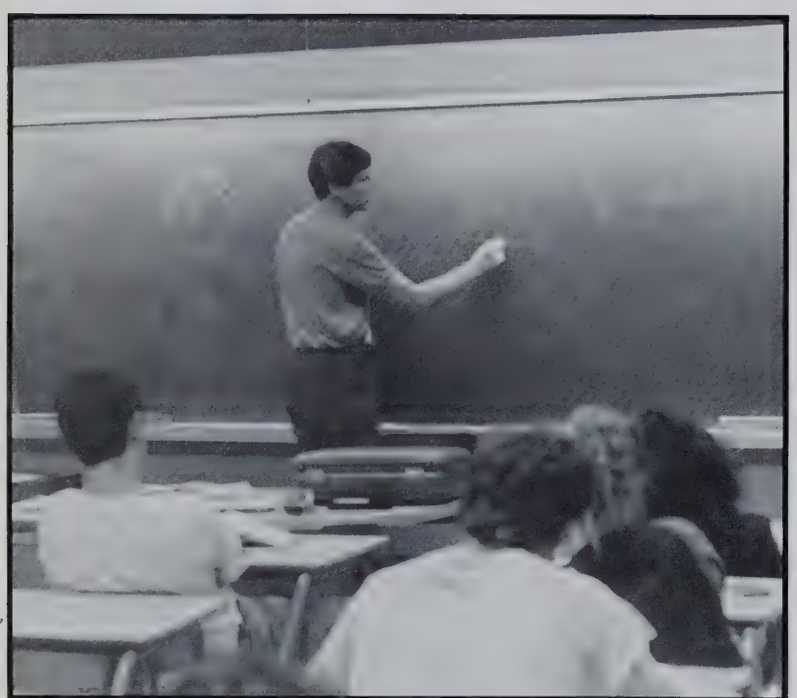
The Math and Business Departments offer important classes for students to take if they are planning to go into any type of business in the future.

The Math Department has a wide range of classes for the students to choose from. The classes range from General Math to Algebra to Calculus. General Math is for those students who plan to terminate their studies at the end of their high school life. Algebra and Calculus are for those students who plan to go to college and pursue their career goals. All students are required to take two years of math.

The Business Department prepares the students for their future in the business world. All of the business courses are elective courses. The student can choose from a wide variety of classes such as Accounting, Recordkeeping, Business Law, Typing — Production, Shorthand, General Business, Office Lab, and Keyboarding.

Students can also learn about computers in the computer lab, which was changed this year from Apple to IBM. The classes that aid the students in computer education are Computer Programming I and II and Computer Literacy.

The Office Lab class, offered for the first time in several years, met for two hours each day. The teacher was Mrs. Julie Bunch. The students who chose to take Business Lab went to various businesses in the community where they could get practical experience working in a real office situation.



As his Geometry class carefully listens, Mr. Gary Merrell explains the day's assignment on the board.

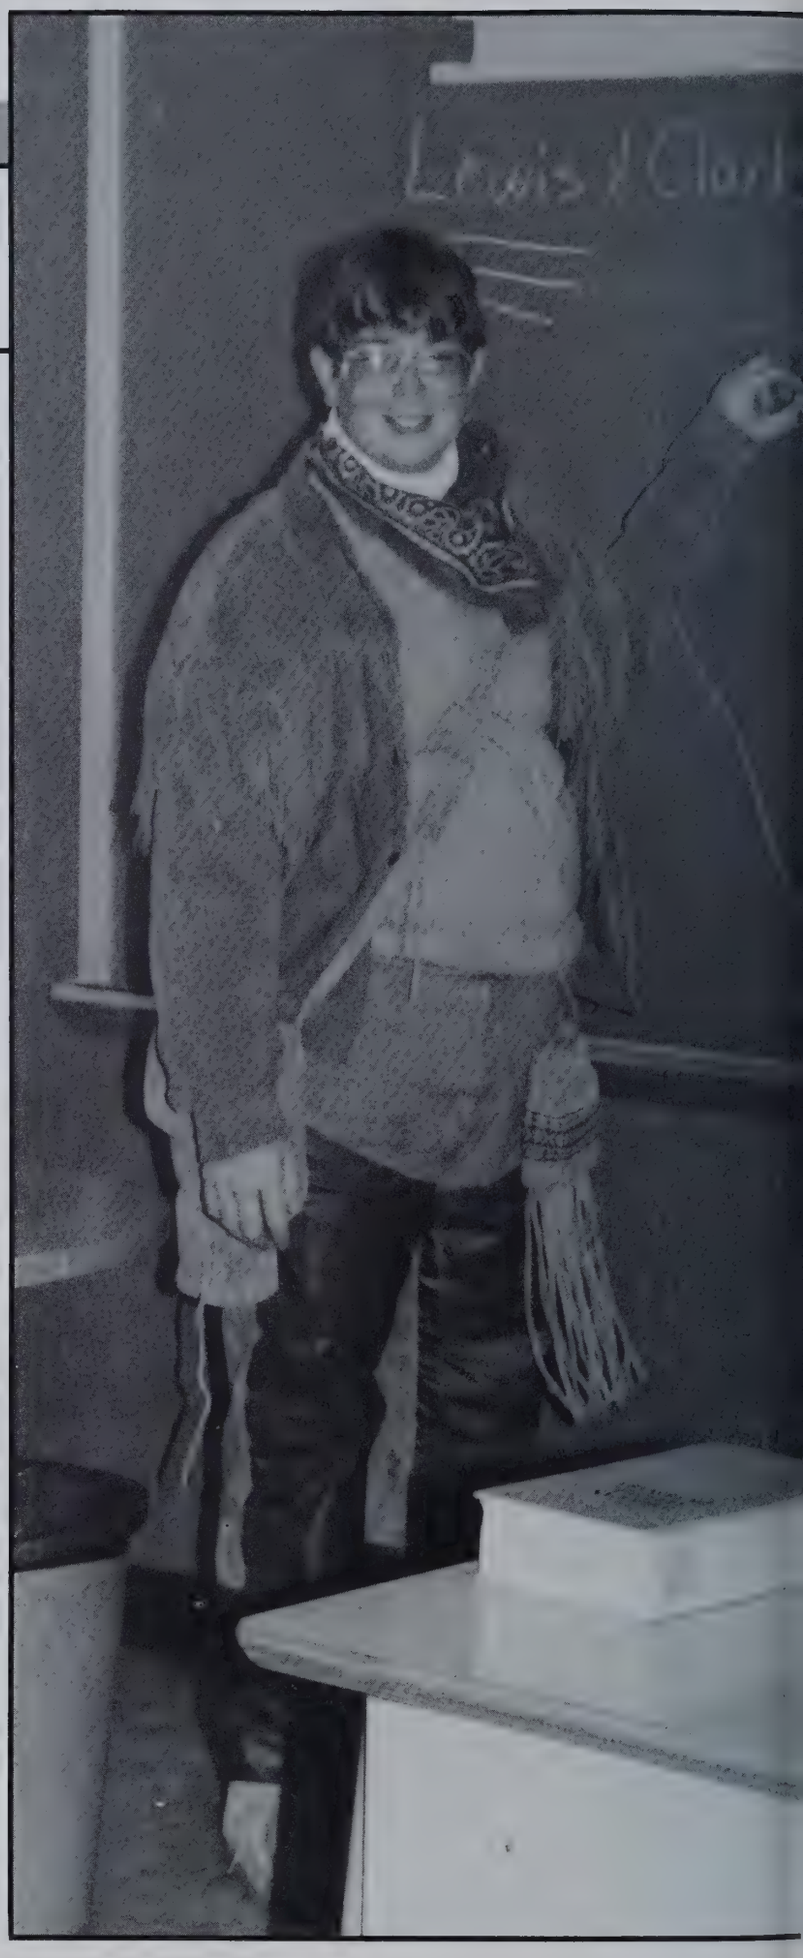
English, Foreign Language Teach Communication Skills

Dressed in authentic looking clothing, Kent Prosser makes a report to his English class about Lewis and Clark.



Language Arts classes encourage and help students with a very important skill, communication. There are two academic departments included: English and Foreign Language.

Each student is required to take four years of English. The students must take two years of general English and two years of specialized English.

The Foreign Language department offers French, German, and Spanish. These classes allow the students to learn how to speak another language in addition to learning the customs of the foreign countries.

The Foreign Language department went to IPFW and participated in the Foreign Language Festival. The French class had two first places (Natalie Gallogly and Melissa Eberly, poster; Tonya Glick and Christy Jones, arts and crafts).

The German class had three first places (Ed Messer, Jason Phillips, and Andrew Kruse, knowledge bowl; Julie Madden, Shelly Schiffli, and Beth Shultz, German video; Andrew Kruse, vocabulary).

The Spanish class received six first places (Wade Marsh and Rolf Dippold, non-stop conversation; Scott Clevenger and Simon Dunn, scrabble; Angie Rathburn, declamation; Natalie Brewer, vocabulary bee; John Haney and Rex Rountree, scrabble; and Lisa Ziarnko, poetry).

The Spell Bowl is an extra curricular activity related to the Language Arts. Mrs. Josie Weber was the proctor. In its first year of competition, the Spell Bowl team was fifth in conference, which was held in October. Shelly Schiffli and Shannon Bolen received first team all conference honors.

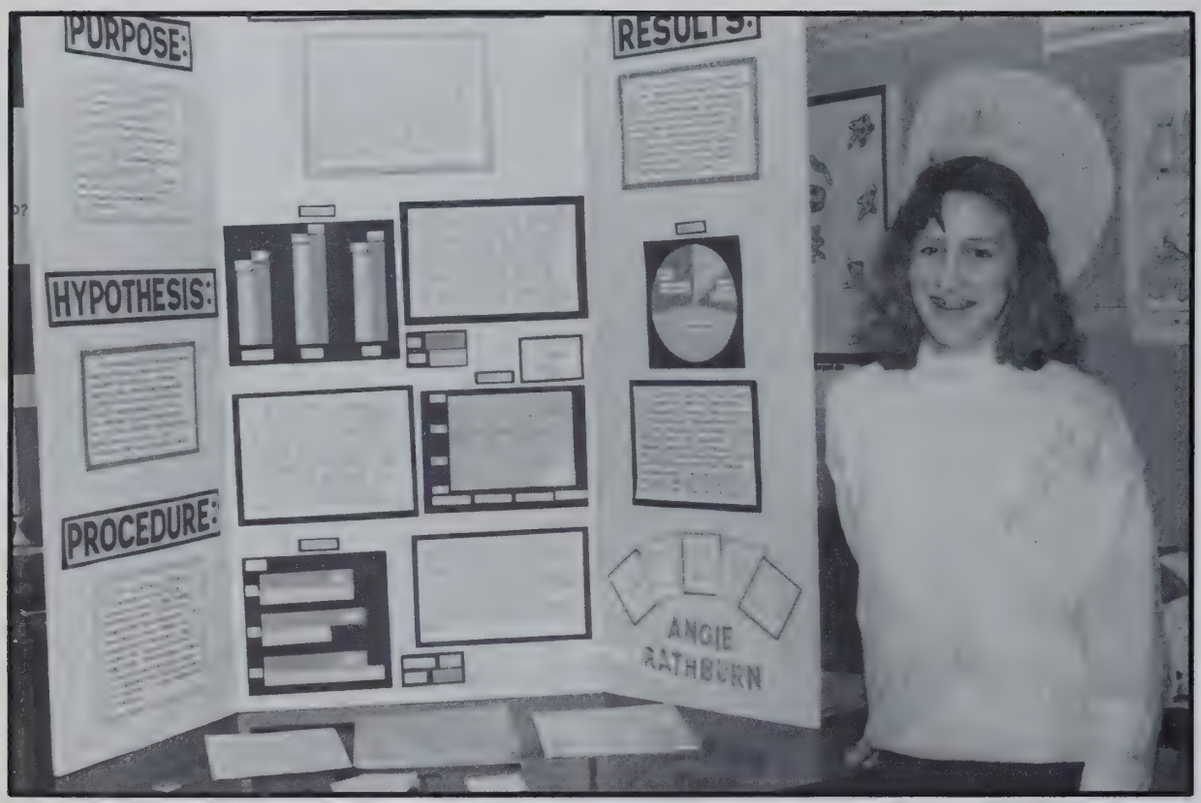
A Thanksgiving skit in German class involves an East German "turkey" (Greg Camp) trying to escape and being stopped by David Teegardin and Jeff Burda acting as border guards. Little did they know that by the end of the school year the wall would be down and German reunification would seem probable.

All those notes of information! Dawn Houser works to bring together the research for her comp class term paper.

Rewards for a job well done are handed out to the Spell Bowl team by Coach Josie Weber at the fall recognition convo.



Angie Rathburn, whose Science Fair project was "Extrasensory Perception — Clairvoyance," placed second at the local fair and fourth at Tri-State.

Kessler Qualifies For National As Science Fair Is Successful

The Science Department's major project was sponsoring the Science Fair. The local fair, held on February 24, saw well over 300 students from the school district exhibiting projects on nearly every topic imaginable. In the senior division the winners were James Kessler, Angie Rathburn, and Lisa Hefty. Winners in the ninth grade were Simon Dunn, Trent Johnson, and Monica Miller. In addition, nineteen others qualified to advance to the Regional at Tri-State.

Students who placed well at Tri-Sate in the junior division were Monica Miller, second in Zoology; Jamie Ketzenberger, first in Engineering and Trent Johnson, fifth in Engineering; and Simon Dunn, first in Behavioral Sciences.

Doing well in the senior division were Emily Miller, fifth in Botany and Microbiology; Adam Jordan, fourth in Chemistry; James Kessler, first in Earth and Space Sciences; Shelly Schiffli, first in Mathematics and Computers; and Angie Rathburn, fourth in Behavioral Sciences.

The only new class added to the science curriculum was Biology II. As one of the projects in that class, the students were responsible for a five-pound flour sack that they were to treat as their own child, making sure that it was being cared for at all times for three weeks.

The science department offered classes in both life sciences and physical sciences and students must earn two credits in each area before graduation.

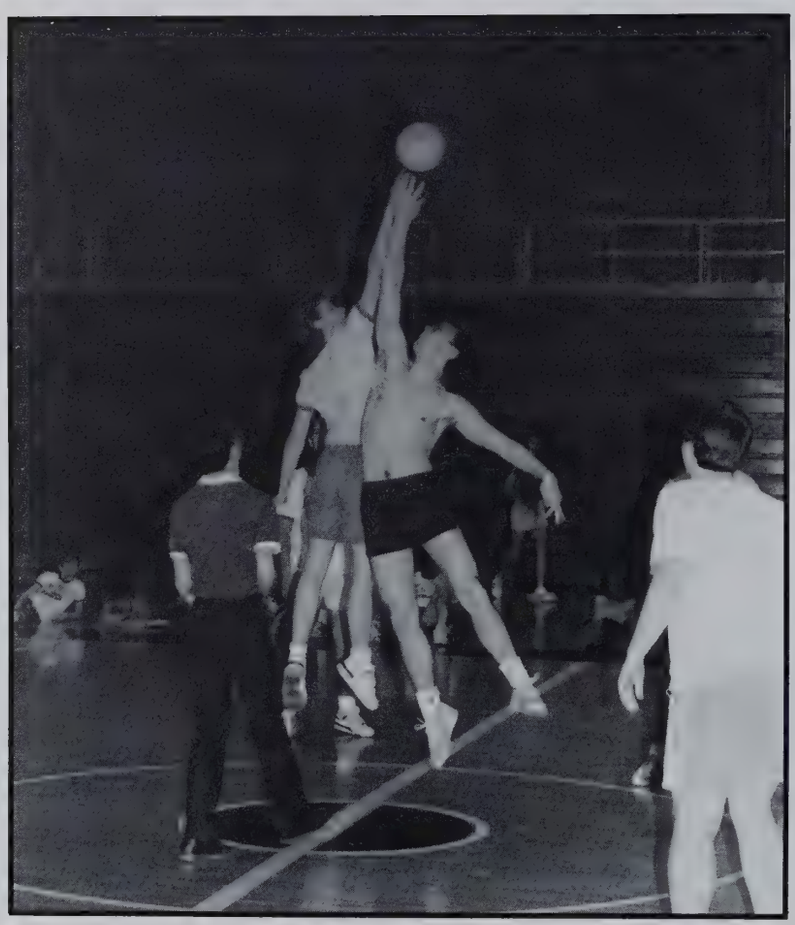
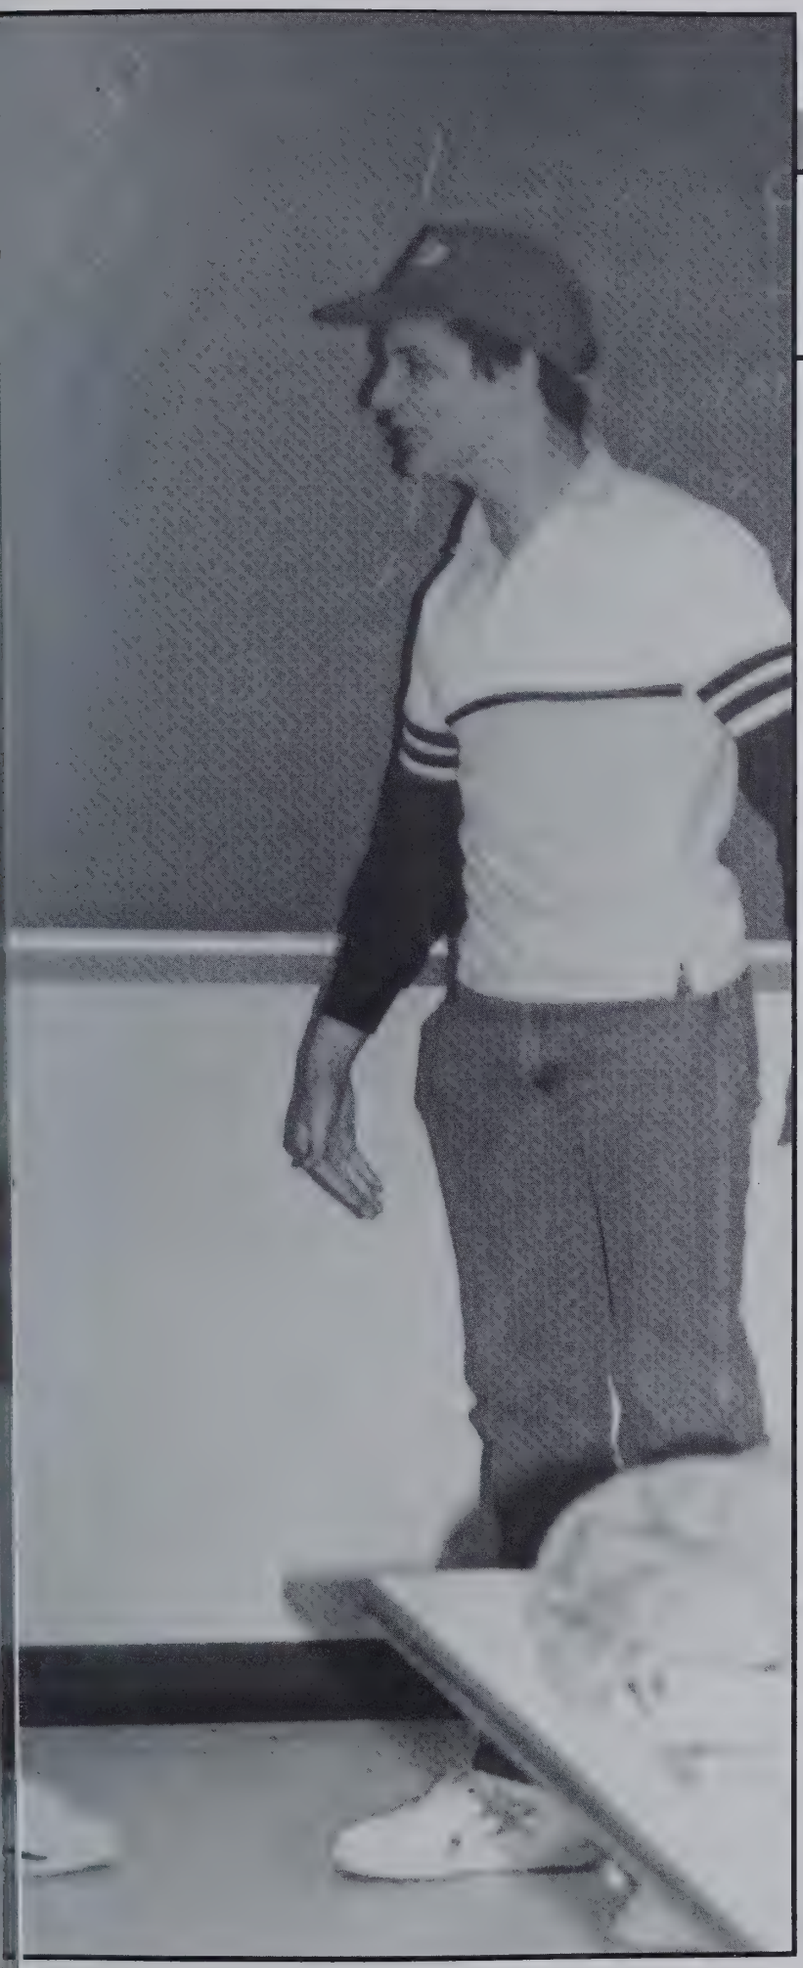
Physical education classes engage in a variety of games. The skins team, at top, is nearly all concentrating on the game. The girls, above, are getting some aerobic exercise with the help of a Richard Simmons video. Right, the two teams jump high to decide who'll get possession of the ball.





Quest Class involves a lot of acting. Left, Mark Myers acts concerned about Julie Rodenbeck's pretend drinking problem.

Physical, Mental Fitness Are Targeted In Classes

With the increased concern in the world about physical fitness, mental health, and driving safety, DHS kept up with the times. Physical education, required of all sophomores, was taught in separate classes to boys and girls. PE students were exposed to a variety of activities which would hopefully carry over into their lifestyle as young adults and adults to help maintain fitness and health.

Taking care of one's physical body was also a major focus of two other classes. The Health class centered around the theory of wellness, encouraging young people to make healthy decisions and to establish healthy living as adults. The Substance Abuse class, new this year, had very similar goals.

The Quest class was offered to sophomores through seniors. It consisted of communication skills, self-concept, emotions, friendships, parenting, and making helpful decisions. The most important part of the Quest class was the keeping of a written journal.

Finally, Drivers Ed prepared students for the actions and responsibilities of defensive driving. It also taught them to save time, money, and sometimes lives. Students were also prepared for things such as filling out accident forms and police reports. The importance of keeping one's vehicle well-maintained was also stressed.

Applegate Wins State Trophies In Indiana Wood Expo Contest

Trades, anyone?

There are five areas included in the Industrial Arts. They are Drafting, Electricity, Graphic Arts, Metals, and Woods. The teachers for these classes were Robert Voelkel, Tony Konieczki, James Murdock, Don Myers, and Steve Ritenour.

Industrial Arts classes allow the students to learn skills that they may use in the future. The Vocational Arts classes usually met for three hours a day. The teachers were David Gurtner, Walt Roberts, and Van Smith. The Vocational Arts classes taught the students how to build and repair engines, build houses, and about farm management. The Building Trades class built a house on Zimmerman Street in Auburn. They planned to sell the house when it was completed.

One IA student who did well was DeWayne Applegate, who entered his red oak baby cradle in a woodworking contest sponsored by the Indiana Hardwood Lumberman's Association. He received the first place plaque at the Columbia City district and then went on to Indianapolis for the Indiana Wood Expo, which was held at the Indianapolis Convention Center. He placed first at Indy for projects under 100 pounds, earning two trophies and a $500 gift certificate.

THANKS, DR. WATSON

Early in 1990, Dr. James Watson announced his decision to retire on July 1, ending 25 years as Superintendent of Schools in DeKalb Central. Born in Wabash, Indiana, and a veteran of World War II, Watson started his career as an elementary teacher in his home town, later moving into administration. While at the helm of DeKalb Central, he oversaw a number of building projects in the district, including DeKalb High School. He is pictured here in the downstairs library helping to remove the carpeting which was part of the activity needed to get the new building project underway.

Duke Liddell Leads Student Council

Student Council is our only organization whose members are elected by the student body. Its officers were President Duke Liddell, Vice-President Beth Brechbill, Secretary Erik Weber, and Treasurer Scott Allison.

Student Council's special goal this year was to keep in touch with all students by sending representatives to report in each homeroom more often. Other activities included sponsoring the Powder Puff football game, running the Bloodmobile, the Sadie Hawkins dance, volunteering to participate in the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon, and encouraging participation in the adopt-a-kid program.

Money-making projects were sponsoring dances and selling shelves for student lockers. The approximately 52 Student Council members were advised by Mr. Branneman and Ms. McCullough.

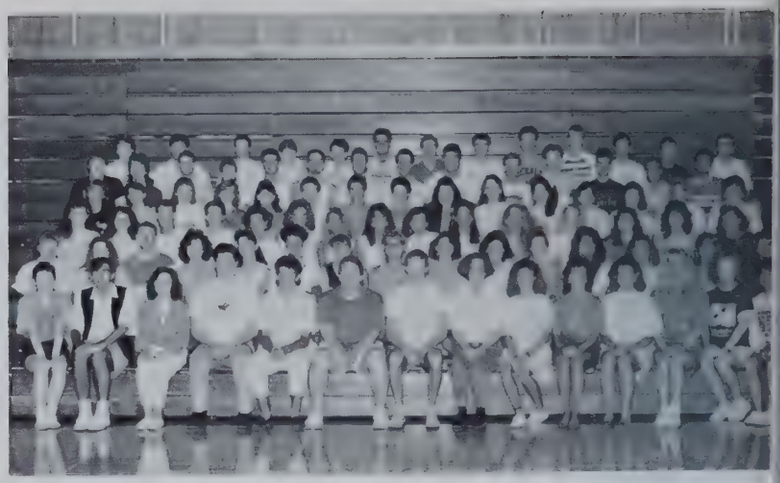
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY



Large Clubs Serve DeKalb

Two of our largest clubs are Letterwinners and National Honor Society. Both clubs are long-standing traditions at DHS joined by athletes and scholars.

With Mrs. Gordon as a new sponsor, the NHS had an active year. They sponsored a very successful food drive, auctioned off their members as slaves to the student body, spent their Saturdays tutoring Saturday School students, and raised next year's membership requirements. Officers of the National Honor Society were President Amy Brook, Vice-President Brad Woodcox, Secretary Jason Schnelker, and Treasurer Beth Brechbill.

The purpose of Letterwinners' Club is to purchase displays for athletic scholarship winners and to continue the wall picture project. To earn money, the club works concessions at boys' and girls' home basketball games. Some of the most dedicated athletes in Letterwinners were Tammy Wolff, Bryan Bergner, Jim Leslie, and Jeff Bell, who were treated to a dinner out by the club. Officers were President Ken Jones, Vice-President Tom Findley, and Secretary Beth Brechbill.

Breakfast Honors Student Workers

Who was it that helped the office staff keep track of student attendance, delivered those "immediately" notes from the Assistant Principal, replaced the returned library books on the shelves, and helped teachers grade papers? These chores and many others were performed by Student Service workers.

Student Service is a system developed at DHS a number of years ago with the idea of benefiting both the student and the school. It would be difficult to calculate the monetary value of this "slave labor" given to the school. At the same time, students gain some skills that might be useful later in the job market.

Student Service was even more popular this year because the seven period day meant that more people had study halls that they wanted to get out of. The best way to do that was through doing service.

On May 17 a breakfast was held honoring all student service workers. Award pins were also given to everyone who participated.

Looking thoughtful as he pauses in his paper grading duties, Cal Bowers checks the answer sheet once again.

With a friendly smile, April McLain waits at the library service desk to be of assistance to whoever asks.

These three student service workers decided that they'd get together for a group picture: Tracy Schrader, Cara Stephens, and Jim Leslie.

Eric Miller seems to think that doing student service for Mr. Myers is a snap. Wait until softball season, Eric!

Working in the new temporary office behind the library, Kim Chaney checks some math papers so Mr. Kock will have less to take home.

Doing student service for Mr. Wilder can lead to all kinds of activities. Left, David Wellman and Stuart Kruse try to repair a sick overhead projector.

Language Clubs Teach Culture

Foreign language is popular at DHS, with 150 members in Spanish and French clubs combined. To join either club, students must be enrolled in a language class or have completed two years.

The purpose of French Club is to further explore the customs of French-speaking countries and to unite students interested in the language. Among their activities were a trip to Cafe Johnell in September, the FL Banquet in February, the viewing of a French movie in November, a Christmas party in December, a trip to Le Gourmet in April, a visit to the Art Museum in Indianapolis, and a visit to a French restaurant in May. The club's money-making projects included working concessions, car washes, carnation sales, and sponsoring dances.

French Club officers were President Amy Brook, Vice-president Ben Crawford, Secretary Alison Hoff, and Treasurer Heather Ricks.

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Pat Smith, promotes a better understanding of the Hispanic people and their culture and gives scholarships to seniors who plan to major or minor in Spanish. It also encourages work on community projects and develops socialization and leadership skills. The club's activities included Christmas caroling at Betz Nursing Home, a Christmas party at Chi Chi's, sponsoring the Foreign Language Banquet, and a trip to Fort Wayne to see a Mexican exhibit.

Spanish Club officers were President Scott Allison, Vice-president Matt Disch, Secretary Brent Winebrenner, and Treasurer Kim Speer.

Cultures Connect At Language Banquet

Cultures connected when German, French, and Spanish joined together to share food, customs, and fun at the annual Foreign Language Banquet. Held on Monday, February 26, the banquet featured skits and contests performed and presented by the members of the clubs.

During the year, German Club participated in many activities. Through these activities, the members strived to complement their classroom work and to enrich their awareness of the German culture.

The 65 members of the German Club were led by President Greg Wallace, Vice-president Cal Bowers, Secretary Laurie Dendinger, and Treasurer Kevin Neumann. Advising the entire club was Mr. Greg Vick.

In December the German Club held an Annual Area Christmas Party, inviting nearby schools. On April 18, the club went on a trip to Frankenmuth, MI, to experience a touch of German culture. In August some members planned to travel to Europe. The club also provided scholarships for some senior members.

To raise money for these activities the German Club worked both football and baseball concessions and the basketball coat check. They also sponsored a post-game dance.

Eleven German students participated at the IPFW Foreign Language Festival for academic competition. All eleven participants won awards. First place winners were Ed Messer, Jason Phillips, Andrew Kruse, Julie Madden, Shelly Schiffli, and Beth Shultz. Second place winners were Steve Rynearson, Greg Wallace, and James Kessler. Third place winners were Angie Kelleher and Deb Klein.

"Pie anyone?" Spanish club members Jenny Jarrett, Kim Speer, and Cindy Jarrett, would be happy to share theirs with you.

SPEECH TEAM

Disch Qualifies For National Meet

For the second year in a row, DeKalb had a National Tournament qualifier. Senior Matt Disch won Foreign Extemporaneous at the NFL District Tournament on April 7, held at Plymouth High School.

In addition to the regular season speech meets, four members — Beth Brechbill, Matt Disch, Jason Whittington, and C.J. Stoops — attended a meet at Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois. There were approximately 1500 competitors, and the DHS team placed three of its four people in US Extemp., Foreign Extemp., and Impromptu.

For the first year, the speech team was included in conference activites, winning the Northeast Hoosier Conference championship. Beth Brechbill, Jenny Krill, and Carleen Lau were named to first team. Alison Seiler and Karla Kelleher were second team members.

On November 11, DeKalb hosted a speech meet. There were 20 schools in competition and DeKalb won both the Novice and Varsity divisions.

March 10 was the team's Sectional meet. Twenty members qualified for Regional. Beth Brechbill and Scott Allison won Foreign and US Extemp, with Matt Disch and C.J. Stoops second in those events. Seven members went to state, held March 31 at North Central High School in Indianapolis. Matt Disch and Beth Brechbill were 5th and 9th in Foreign Extemp., Jenny Krill was 9th in Discussion, and Tina Conrad was 9th in Poetry.

After winning the first NHC speech trophy Beth Brechbill, Jason Whittington, and Matt Disch are congratulated.

SADD, SKI CLUB

Deb Klein, James Kessler, Stacey Brewer, Elizabeth Sonnenburg, and Dana Ungemach are SADD officers.

At one of their meetings Cathy Baysinger, Jenny Piazza, and Julie Rodenbeck discuss their latest SADD project.

Tim Derrow (right) delivers prom promises to Mrs. Walton's homeroom class as part of a SADD project.

Attentive SADD members listen carefully as they work on the plans to their latest project.

These Groups Say: Don't Drink & Ski

Celebrating its fifth anniversary at DeKalb, SADD once again worked to prevent drinking and driving. James Kessler presided over the meetings with assistance from vice-president Stacy Brewer and secretaries Elizabeth Sonnenberg and Debbie Klein. Dana Ungemach was an active committee chairperson. Mrs. Tita Gordon advised the SADD group.

One of SADD's major projects was the SADD Hot Line. It provided a ride home for students who had had too much to drink after homecoming, prom, and graduation. To finance their expenses, SADD members participated in car washes, bake sales, and sponsored a dance. As a reward for their hard work, SADD members took a trip to Cedar Point on May 19.

The DeKalb High School Ski Club is one of the more active clubs. Almost every Thursday beginning at the end of December, the Ski Club members headed to Timber Ridge in Michigan for an evening of skiing. The Ski Club made seven or eight two hour trips, returning to DHS around midnight.

Officers of the Ski Club consisted of President Lisa Rieke, Vice-president Josh Hower, Secretary Chelsea Eberly, and Treasurer Paul Richardson. The 52 members were advised by Mr. Don Myers and Mr. Tony Konieczki.

ART CLUB FEA, FHA

Daryl Christensen, below, seems pleased that he received one of the Tree-grams being delivered by FEA'ers Stacey Groff and Kathy Myers.

Common Interests Unite Memberships

Art Club, FEA, and FHA are three clubs whose members have interests in common.

The fifty-five members of the Art Club, along with sponsor Janet Nagel, worked toward making this year memorable. One of the Art Club's main goals was to provide scholarships for those pursuing a career in art and to expand interest and talents through the community with service projects and art workshops.

On December 16th, the Art Club sponsored a Christmas semi-formal dance. The club also enjoyed painting eagles for the newly remodeled East Auburn Elementary School. Scheduling problems caused a planned elementary art workshop to be cancelled.

FEA, or Future Educators in Action, worked hard to promote education for the members and community. Adviser Judy Eisenhut and president Becky Barnhart led the fifteen members of FEA. They were assisted by vice-president Stacy Grogg and Secretary/Treasurer Kathy Myers.

The club sponsored Christmas Treegrams and worked in the football concessions during the playoff game. This money went toward a scholarship for a senior member pursuing a career in education. They also provided get-togethers for the faculty.

The Future Homemakers of America is one of our smaller clubs, having only 10 members. Advised by Mrs. Betty Stomm, the officers are Angie Eldridge, president; Catina Milks, vice-president; Heather Fuleki, secretary; and Tim Jacko, treasurer. The group's purpose is to help youth assume on active role in society through personal growth, family life, vocational preparation, and community involvement. FHA took part in the Adopt-A-Friend program at Betz Nursing Home, sponsored a pizza party, and attended two FHA district conventions.

Club Focuses On Agri-Business Field

FFA is one of Dekalb High's most active clubs participating in 18 activities throughout the year. The purpose of the club is to improve students knowledge, skills, leadership, abilities, citizenship, and cooperation through the state convention, state leadership camps, soil judging, building a float for the county fair parade, the district kick-off, the national convention, filling out proficiency forms, the parliamentary procedure contest, leadership contests, dairy judging, livestock judging, small engine contests, tractor trouble shooting, farm business management, the Ag. Day breakfast, forestry judging, the Ag. Day farm tour, and a land lab. To join FFA a student must be enrolled in Ag. class and meet national requirements. Officers of the club are Lisa Hefty (President), Stacy Dunn (Secretary), Pete Reinoehl (Treasurer), Rita Smith (Reporter), and Tammy Berryhill (Sentinal).

Pete Reinoehl takes time to explain modern farming methods to some elementary school children, who may never before have been on a farm.

"The Pub" Is Used By 2 Busy Staffs

The publications room was one of the busiest at DHS. Two groups, the Baron Shield and the Saber, had to share the small room because of construction.

The Baron Shield staff produced and sold nine issues. The Editor-in-Chief Lisa Ziarnko was assisted by Business Manager Jeff Burkhart, Assistant Editor and Lay Out Manager Dean Houser, and Poetry Editors Jeremy Miller and Matt Bishop. The newspaper staff was advised by Mrs. Dorothy Heminger. The group took a field trip to Journalism Day at IPFW and held parties to recognize the first and second semester staffs. The Shield had good support from the community, with almost eighty merchants and companies as sponsors.

The yearbook staff worked with a single goal in mind: to make the 1990 Saber the best ever. Together, the staff did everything from picking the theme and selling ads to meeting all the deadlines. During the year, the Saber staff worked hard designing the cover, taking and developing pictures, gathering information, carefully laying out each page, and selling yearbooks to subscribers. Through hard work, determination, and dedication, the Saber staff members and adviser Mrs. Kay Finchum tried to achieve their goal.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF FOOTBALL

The DeKalb Baron football team worked together throughout the season, both on the field and off, gaining a sense of unity that helped them to achieve their goals. The Barons were repeatedly forced to adjust to playing with the injuries of seven starting players: Erik Weber, Scott Thomas, Stan Shipe, Kirk Sells, Bryan Bergner, Jeff Bell, and Chad Sorg. Though they were defeated at the regional level by Lafayette Harrison, the team gave their coach, Dale Hummer, a great last season.

Rushing for a total of 1207 yards and 921 yards respectively, Tom Findley and Thad Nixon led the team in rushing. Kirk Sells received 25 completed passes and gained an average of 12.5 yards per catch. Though he caught fewer passes than Sells, Matt Peters led the Barons with an average reception of 19.5 yards.

Erik Weber had a very successful season as quarterback completing more than half of the 131 passes he attempted. Tom Findley and Thad Nixon led in the points scored for the season. Bryan Bergner was by far the star of DeKalb's defensive line making over 140 tackles, almost 80 of which he accomplished independently.

Tom Findley very effectively sums up the 1989 season by saying, "I think that all of the seniors were a little disappointed when we didn't reach our highest goal (going to state) but overall the season was very successful."

The Barons experience 'The Thrill of Victory' when they win the first Northeast Hoosier Conference title against Carroll.

The thrill is gone and 'The Agony of Defeat' has set in when DeKalb loses to Lafayette Harrison at the final level of the regional.

Coach Hummer takes a time out to discuss the Barons' next plan of attack. This year was special to the team, because, it marked the end of Hummer's very successful coaching career. The following words are his thoughts on his past and future at DeKalb.

"DeKalb High School, what a great place to teach and coach. In the past eight years I have enjoyed more than ever both the professional and personal relationships with my fellow teachers, administrators, and other school personnel. And just as important, I have enjoyed the many outstanding students here at DeKalb High School.

"I hope that it will work out so I might be able to continue to make a contribution in other ways to benefit both the students and the community. I am both confident and optimistic that I can help make a difference in the lives of young people."

Sports Talk

"We had the kind of people it took to be successful; they were dedicated and self-motivated. Even though we didn't make it to the state finals we accomplished most of our goals."

"And from the whole team we want to congratulate Coach Hummer on a great season and a great career."

— Thad Nixon

"At the start of the season we knew we had to come together to have a successful season. And throughout the year we achieved our goal and played as a unit."

— Cal Bowers

"We had many outstanding players and all accepted their roles and contributed to the team success. We had injuries, but we had the kind of people on the team who knew how to suck it up and play with injuries."

— Erik Weber

"From the beginning of the season the football team had a lot of pressure to be good. The crowd support was great; however we felt as if we let them down because we didn't win the big one. I hope the students will support next year's team as much as they did this year's.

"Speaking for the football team, I'd like to thank Coach Hummer for the great lessons he has taught us all. Thanks, Coach."

— Kirk Sells

Sports Talk

"It was an honor to be a part of a team as fine as this year's freshman football team. The undefeated season was quite a thrill. We all worked hard thanks to Coach Schmidt and Coach Weber."
— Jamie Ketzenberger

"Volleyball is a fun and exciting sport that I enjoyed very much this year. It provided me with a better understanding of high school volleyball. The coaches were great and taught us more about playing and understanding it better."
— M.C. Gengnagel

"It (reserve football) was pretty tough, but we had a great time."
— Jason Fike

"Though the season took a lot of hard work and dedication, we learned a lot through our experiences both on and off the court. We made friends that will last a lifetime."
— Michelle Cashdollar

"We didn't have the best season, but we had a lot of fun and a great coach."

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF SPORTS

In both volleyball and football, the junior varsity and freshman teams prepared for the "big time."

The undefeated freshman football team excelled in defense, allowing only four touchdowns. The defensive line was led by Lee Pettyjohn, while backs Kadish Evans and Todd Stayer and linebackers Brian Finn and Bruce Bell also helped.

Leading freshman rushers Jon Bickel and Grant Detrick helped gain the team's total of 1222 yards while the defense allowed only 457 yards on the ground.

The reserve volleyball team won the New Haven Invitational. Contributing to their successful year were Wendy Recker, Tara Muzzillo, and Suzanne Reese in hitting; Michelle Cashdollar and Tiffany Cook in setting; and Recker and Reese in serving.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF

VOLLEYBALL

The 1989 Varsity Volleyball team enjoyed a season of firsts. The team set a new school record by winning 29 matches in a row. They won the Concord Invitational for the first time, adding it to their list of invitational wins, which included Elmhurst and Whitco.

Coach Chris Likens credits part of the team's success to its overall experience. Nine letter winners, including seven seniors, returned, and other members moved up to the varsity level from JV.

Two senior players, Lisa Hefty and Heather Rekeweg, were designated to 1st Team All-Conference. Second team honors went to senior Tara Stayer and junior Amy Weaver. Rekeweg and Hefty also led the team in kills, blocks, and assists. Stayer led the team in digs, and senior Missy Crager led in aces.

The team continued their winning season into the sectionals, where they won their first game against Garrett. They were defeated by Leo, their second loss of the season, in the second game of sectionals. The Varsity Volleyball team ended its season with a record of 30-2.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF SPORTS

Though neither the girls' cross country nor the girls' golf teams had outstanding records, the members of both teams agree that they developed important friendships during their golf and cross country careers. Both teams had many young members, so there will be lots of room for improvement in their future years of competition at DeKalb.

The best nine hole average in girls' golf was held by Jennifer Detrick with a score of 57 points per match. Tammy Buss and Andrea Derrow came in second and third respectively with nine hole averages of 60.5 and 61 points per match.

Running the fastest 4000 meters in cross country were Cheryl Conrad (18:25), Diane Richardson (18:47), and Darlene Schoudel (19:36). Also on the team was foreign exchange student Susanna Linic who said, "Especially I had fun on the team because really everybody helped me out and fixed me up during the races. Thanks to all the team members and the coach — you helped me to improve."

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF

CROSS COUNTRY

Through the summer's hard work, determination, and motivation, the DeKalb cross country team came into its season with confidence. This confidence showed throughout the season, and the Barons ran away with a 4th at sectional and a 6th at regional. Individually, many members placed in the top five at meets, and senior Chris Dove received a 13th out of over 140 runners at the semi-state.

The season's fastest time of 16:05 was made by Chris Dove against West Noble. Dove also had the best average time on the team, with 16:33. Paul Richardson had the second best time, 16:35, against Homestead, and also the second best average, 17:02. Rounding out the top five were Chad Wolff, John Reinoehl, and Dirk Andres.

Because time is an important element in cross country, all members worked to improve their time. Three members — Collier Cannon, Jeff Brosius, and Andy McCanna — improved their time by over two minutes each.

The team improved its record from 5-4 to 9-4. Most members felt that the improvement came from a sense of camaraderie felt by the team.

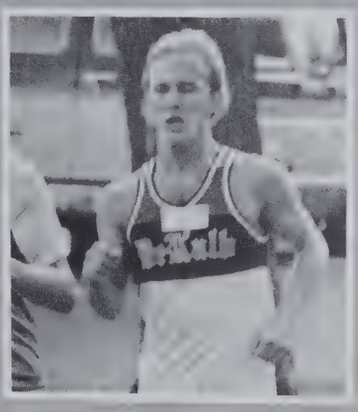
Sports Talk



"I want to thank Coach Teixeira and the rest of the team for making my senior year the best. This is the best team I've been a part of during my four years of cross country. Coach Teixeira has been a great coach, and I wish him and the team good luck next year."

— Chris Dove

"We really had fun this year, because the team seemed to come together more and form sort of a family. Mr. Teixeira helped us all a lot, and the whole team is glad to have a great coach like him around."

— Dirk Andres

"This year's team was one of the closest teams I've been on. We always had fun at practice and doing things after practice together. We all knew that being close and working hard in practice would bring good results. Coach Teixeira was very supportive and I want to thank him and the rest of the team for a great year."

— Paul Richardson

Sports Talk

"Our season wouldn't have been as productive if our coaches hadn't pushed us to our limits."

— Brad Wright

"I'd like to thank Coach Koehl for four great years of tennis. He has been both my coach and my friend. I wish him and Coach Bassett the best of luck in the future."

— Kevin Neumann

"Our coaches made our season by coaching us and relating to us as friends."

— Matt Bechdol

"The addition of a new coach is what really helped the team, both varsity and reserve."

Devotion, improvement, and achievement are words that served the 1989 boys tennis team well. Improving their record from 11-6 to 13-4, most members attributed their success to the dedication and ability of their coaches, Tim Koehl and Tim Bassett.

The year's best singles record belonged to Wes Oswalt, playing at the number 3 spot, with 19-3. The doubles record went to Kevin Neumann and Greg Boyd with 17-5.

For the second year in a row, DeKalb was second at the DeKalb Invitational. The Barons added a victory to their record by winning the FW Northside Invitational.

The Varsity team ended its season successfully by defeating Howe Military, Angola, and Leo in sectionals before being defeated by East Noble.

The Reserve team proved themselves to be tough competition. They were defeated only once, by Homestead, and finished their season with a record of 11-1.

Sports Talk

"I feel that I have learned a lot from cheerleading. Sometimes it was difficult to get the crowd involved but all in all, they did a pretty good job."

— Kim Speer

"Cheerleading has been a great experience. It didn't matter if we were cheering in rain or snow, or if we were running laps at six in the morning on our summer "vacation," we always had fun! I'm glad I was involved in cheerleading because I made a lot of good friends and memories."

— Misty Bell

"My junior year we worked all summer on our routine and won 2nd in Ohio's cheerleading competition. We were all so excited and proud of each other. I've learned so much, and I'm going to miss cheering at games, going to camp, competing, and all the good times we all had together."

— Annette Young

"In all my years of high school cheerleading, I've never seen school spirit, crowd spirit, and team spirit as high as it was this year."

— Cindy Jarrett

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF CHEERING

There is more to being a cheerleader than meets the eye. Anyone who thinks that cheerleaders aren't athletes hasn't seen the work-outs required of them. Starting shortly after their selection in the spring, the cheerleaders worked through the summer to get ready for their respective seasons. They attended camp during the summer at Ball State University, where they won a spirit stick as an award.

In addition to cheering at games, the cheerleaders did other things to boost the general school spirit. Sponsors were Ms. Julie Talley and Ms. Sally Albright.

WRESTLING

With few seniors to lead the team, the Baron wrestlers outscored their dual meet opponents 755 to 560. The only senior to establish any team records was 125 pounder Jason Schnelker, who had the most takedowns (38) and the most escapes (22). With an 18-10 record, he placed second in the NHC, at the East Noble Invitational, and at sectional.

Having the most varsity records was junior 112 pounder Richard Worman, who had the best record (29-4), fastest fall (11 seconds), most falls (21), most decisions (7), most points scored (395), and most 3 point near falls (21). Worman placed first at East Noble, in the NHC, and at sectional. He placed 3rd in regional, advancing to the semistate, where he lost his second match to Warsaw's Aaron Wilson, eventual state runner-up.

The Barons' other semistate qualifier was junior heavyweight Cal Bowers, who had a 22-6 season, placing first at East Noble and sectional, second in the NHC.

Other season records were established by sophomore Jeremy Bowers, with 22 reversals and junior Eric Sanders, with 11 two point near falls.

The junior varsity had a 12-2 season with freshman Lee Pettyjohn at 189 pounds leading the way with a 14-1 record.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF BASKETBALL

New teams, new competition, and a new experience all describe the Lady Barons encounter with the newly formed Northeast Hoosier Conference. Taking it all in stride, the Lady Barons came out as conference tourney champions. They also held the 3rd place record for conference games, with a record of 5-2. Joy Kroemer was chosen as first team all-conference, while Lisa Hefty and Amy Weaver were designated as 2 second team players.

Coached by Gary Daub, who was assisted by Barb Oneal, the Lady Barons ended the season with an overall record of 16-6. A big change from previous years was the leading scorers. These underclassmen consisted of juniors Amy Weaver and Joy Kroemer and freshman Wendy Recker. The senior players were also outstanding. Lisa Hefty and Angie Quickery rounded out the list of top scorers. While Amy Weaver was the leading field goal scorer, Joy Kroemer shot ahead in the amount of free throws made. With 1,054 total points this season, the team averaged 47.9 points per game. In tournament play, DeKalb was the runner-up in both the DeKalb Holiday Tournament, and in the Sectional Tournament.

New accomplishments were made by every member of the girls' basketball team as they ended their first season in the NHC.

Sports Talk

"The best thing about basketball this year was that we got along so well. We were the closest team that I have ever played on. We were like one big happy family. It was like having a family away from home which made practices much more fun."

— Tammy Wolff

"It was quite an experience. I had a great time with the team members. They made the season fun, exciting, and interesting."

— Tara Stayer

"This year was very challenging for all of us. We pulled together when we needed to and grew closer as the season progressed."

— Amy Weaver

"This past season was a very great one. I really learned a lot from the other girls on the team. I feel that we all worked very well together, and I hope next year will be as big a success as this year was."

— Wendy Recker

Sports Talk

"I think our Freshman girls team did a great job throughout our season. We had it tough considering we only had seven players, but we worked as a team to have a winning season. I think our teamwork is what made us successful this year."
— Deb Wyatt

"If I could summarize the season in one word, it would be 'teamwork'."
— Heather Ricks

"The thing I liked the most about the freshman basketball team was that we all worked together as a team. We did well for only having seven players throughout the season."
— Sonya Holmes

"This year meant a lot to me. Piper Merrell helped shape our team by coming to DeKalb. I would also like to wish Mrs. Oneal a lot of luck with her baby."

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF BASKETBALL

The junior varsity edition of the Lady Barons did not have an outstanding year, accumulating an overall 7-9 record and going 3-6 against NHC opponents. The team's best offensive effort came against Concordia, when they scored 38 points, and their best defensive showing came when Angola scored only 12 points.

Shooting accuracy was not a JV team strength. Tara Muzzillo, who later moved up to the varsity, shot 50% from the field early in the season, with most of her shots being from close to the basket. Next best was Suzanne Reese with 48 of 124 for 38%. Reese scored 114 total points, three behind the 117 total of Piper Merrell. Merrell tied Reese for the team lead at the line with 53%. She also led the team with 78 rebounds, 48 of them defensive. Lisa Wrona, who scored 52 points, led the team with 40 steals. Reese and Wrona contributed 24 and 22 assists respectively.

Although Heather Ricks and Nicole Barnhart didn't score a geat deal, they pulled down 48 and 47 rebounds. Ricks also had 19 assists.

The freshman team showed improvement through the year, with the season's highlights being the second game against Columbia City, the four game mid-season win streak, and winning 7 of the last 10 games.

Winning the fourth sectional title in four years was probably the year's highlight for the 11-12 Barons. They finished sixth in the NHC with a 3-4 record and lost to East Noble in the first round of the conference tourney. East Noble was the NHC regular season champion, while Homestead won the conference tourney.

Two Barons were named to the All-NHC team. Shannon Carey was named to the first team, while second team honors went to Ron Dobson. Carey set a new school record for scoring in a single game by scoring 47 points against Angola. Carey averaged 16.4 points per game. Dobson, who averaged 11.9 points per game, was the team's assist leader, setting a new record of 186 for the year. He also tied a school record by making 14 assists in the Bellmont game. This placed him second on the list of career assists with 265.

Senior Erik Weber made school history by being the first Baron to play on four sectional championship teams. His 255 points (11.1 ppg) placed him fifth on the career scoring list with 852 total points. He also had 228 career assists, placing him fifth on that list as well.

Several other records involved the 3 point field goals. Scott Price made 48 of his 118 3 point attempts. The season high came in a game against Howe Military, when ten 3 pointers were scored.

Scott Price did an outstanding job of shooting, hitting 91.9 percent of his free throws and 41 percent from the field. The team shot 44.5% from the field, with Shannon Carey's average of 44.3 leading the way for first-year coach Gary Merrell.

Sports Talk

We had a good year and we had lots of fun too. This year seemed so short, because about the time we started playing as a team, we were beat out at regional. I'd like to extend a special thanks to the team and the coaching staff, especially Coach Merrell, who made this year's season possible."

— Ron Dobson

"We have had excellent leadership from our seniors. I think the rest of the team will have to agree with me when I say, we will all miss them in the future, but they will always be with us in our minds as we move on in our basketball careers. I would also like to thank Coach Merrell for making us feel like we were all part of the team, no matter if you started or came off the bench. I think that this year has been one to remember, especially for me. This year has been great considering that the guys on the team have all come together as a unit. We have lost together and we have won together."

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF BASKETBALL

All three boys' basketball teams below the varsity level had winning seasons, including the freshman "B" team's 10-6 record.

A total of sixteen players saw some action at the junior varsity level, with nine playing in 10 games or more. The top scorer for the reserves was Brian Wright with 190 points, followed by Brian Thomas (166), Matt Bechdol (129), and Tim Holwerda (127).

The JV team shot 43% from the field while connecting on 62% of their free throw attempts. Tops in that category were Wright (74%) and Thomas and Tim Ostroski, both at 73%. Wright also led the team in assists with 68, while Matt Bechdol was tops in steals with 39. Bechdol also was Mr. Durability, the only one to play in all 20 games, seeing action in 75 of the total 80 quarters played, during which time he pulled down a team-high of 131 total rebounds.

The freshman squad was large enough to split into two groups. For the "A" team, top scorers were Eric Kessler (149) and Todd Stayer (148). Stayer had the best single game score of 18 against Eastside. Two freshmen shot over 70% from the line — Mike Richter (75%) and Kessler (71%).

The top scorer for the "B" team was Jason Leslie, with 106 points, averaging 6.6 points per game. The team's best performance came in a 51-17 defeat of Angola.

Sports Talk

"One of the highlights of our season was when we lost to Homestead during the regular season, and then killed them in a tournament. I also remember when (Coach) Charlie Dobson made us run thirty-two suicides in 1½ hours because we kept messing up our drills."

— Jon Bickel

"I really enjoyed this season. It was a challenge learning new offenses and moving from a forward to a point guard, but it went well. Two games I remember the most were the Northside game where we won on a buzzer shot, and the Norwell game where I hit 11 of 14 free throws."

— Brian Wright

"Basketball was a lot of fun this year, but a lot of hard work as well. Playing JV ball and watching the varsity helped me learn a lot. The coaches helped me figure out what things I needed to work on in the off season as well as pointing out the positive points I had during the season."

— Brent Bailey

"This is my first year in high school basketball, and I learned more from my high school coaches than from any others. I expect to learn more in the following years."

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF

GYMNASTICS

The DeKalb Gymnastics team was young, but not without experience or success. They scored some of the highest finishes ever on the varsity level at Elmhurst and Logansport with a 12th and a 2nd, respectively. They also earned the highest ever conference placing, with a 2nd. DeKalb had had only one previous all-conference player. This season, DeKalb had two. Shelby Davidson was a first team member, and Kelly Meyer was nominated to the second team. Davidson also broke the school record, 31.15, for the highest all-around score. She turned in a score of 31.55 at the Lakeland Invitational. Davidson was also the conference champion on the bars, scoring an 8.25. Teammate Kelly Meyer was close behind with a second on the beam.

The reserve team also had a successful season, winning over some very tough teams, including Leo, Concordia, and Northrop. They ended their season with a record of eight wins, three losses.

Fourth Row: Kelly Meyer, Amy Brown, Shelby Davidson, Diane Richardson, and managers Lisa Peilstocker and Robin Carper.

Careful concentration keeps Kelly Meyer on the beam as she works toward another no-fall routine. Meyer had 3 no-fall routines during the season.

Freshman Diane Richardson smiles proudly for the judges after she sticks her landing after completing her vault.

Elegantly displaying poise and balance, sophomore Shelby Davidson concentrates on her routine. Shelby broke the school record for highest points scored.

Gracefully performing her floor routine, freshman Anita Walker, left, displays a talent that most people are unable to master — the splits.

Sophomore Chelsea Pinkerton pauses precariously on the uneven bars as she prepares to complete her routine.

Sports Talk

"The team had a real family feeling. This was a big difference from last year. We all accomplished more than last year."

— Jennifer Wleklinski

"I think we made a big improvement this year; we have Mrs. Gilbert and Mr. Likens to thank for that. We have high goals for next year and we have yet to get our 90."

— Amy Brown

"I feel the gymnastics team has improved in the last year and we will have a better season next year. I feel we all worked really hard throughout the season."

— Shelby Davidson

"At the beginning of the year, everyone was working hard to win conference. Though we didn't win, we got 2nd, which was the best in a long time. I think everybody accomplished what they planned to at the beginning of the season."

— Chelsea Pinkerton

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF

GOLF

The boys' golf team enjoyed a well-earned year of success. They ended their regular season ranked twentieth in the state. Senior experience was a major factor in the team's success.

The top golfer was Brad Woodcox. His best score was a 34 during a match with Garrett. His average score was 39. Close behind Woodcox were Wes Oswalt and Trent Stuckey, whose averages were only about a half stroke higher.

In pre-sectional 18 hole play, Woodcox had the best score, carding a 75 in the Concordia Invitational. Five of the eight NHC teams were state-ranked, so the conference meet was a real battle. The Barons came out third, with Wes Oswalt's 76 earning first team honors. Woodcox lost a chance to also be on the NHC first team when he lost on the fourth hole of a sudden-death play-off.

The reserve team ended its season with a 6-5 record, gaining valuable experience for the following year when this year's seniors would be gone.

The 309 sectional score at Eel River beat NHC rivals Carroll and Homestead by four strokes, with Trent Stuckey's 70 leading the way. The regional at Norwood ended the Baron's season when they shot a 331 to place fifth.

Sports Talk

"Being on this team was a great experience. I had a lot of fun and I enjoyed every minute of it. Good luck to next year's team."

— Wes Oswalt

"This season was based on dreams. We did our best to make those dreams come true. I'd like to thank Coach Smith and the rest of the varsity team for making this my most enjoyable golf season."

— Brent Winebrenner

"Through the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat we had a great year and many memories that will last forever."

— Trent Stuckey

"Golf was really fun this year. I got to go to all the different courses in our conference. Each course was different, but now that I've played them, I won't be so nervous in the years to come."

— Chris Skelding

"The 1990 golf season was good, bad, and ugly. Our play was good, our record was bad, and Smitty's driving was ugly."

— Brad Woodcox

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF

TENNIS

A few pieces of equiment and acquired skill. This describes the girls' tennis team. Requiring only a racket and a ball, the team consists mainly of talent. Trying to use their skill to their advantage, the DeKalb tennis team began their 46 day season on April 12th.

The DeKalb tennis team ended their season with a record of 5-11. Even though they ended their season a little rough, the team did have a three game winning streak. Starting with a win against East Noble, DeKalb ended its streak with a 1-4 win over Columbia City.

Ending with a winning record was the #1 singles player, Lisa Wrona. She ended her season with a record of 14-7. Also ending with a winning record was the team of Sarah Grimm and Beth Brechbill. The #2 doubles team ended with a record of 12-10 and 13-9, respectively.

Junior Sarah Schmidt sums up the season when she says, "It seemed to be the most fun for me, and I think the closeness of fellow teammates made this year so great. Although we didn't win all of our matches as a team, almost every single meet came down to the last match to break the score. I also knew that if all the varsity players were 'on' at the same time, we would have been tough to beat. But there was hardly ever a time when everyone played well on the same night. Our team this year has made tremendous improvement, and I'm looking forward to next year."

Sports Talk

"Although the record doesn't show it, the team played extremely well as individuals. Experience, dedication, and motivation will be needed for a successful season next year."

— Beth Brechbill

"I think with the experience the players received this year, they will be a good team next year. Even though we didn't win many of our matches, we had a great time. We just couldn't get it together."

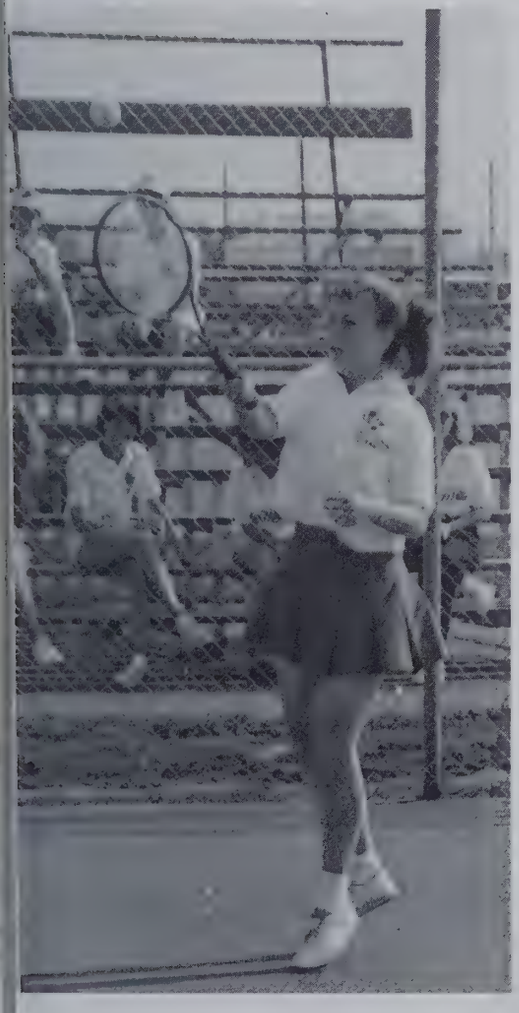
— Sarah Grimm

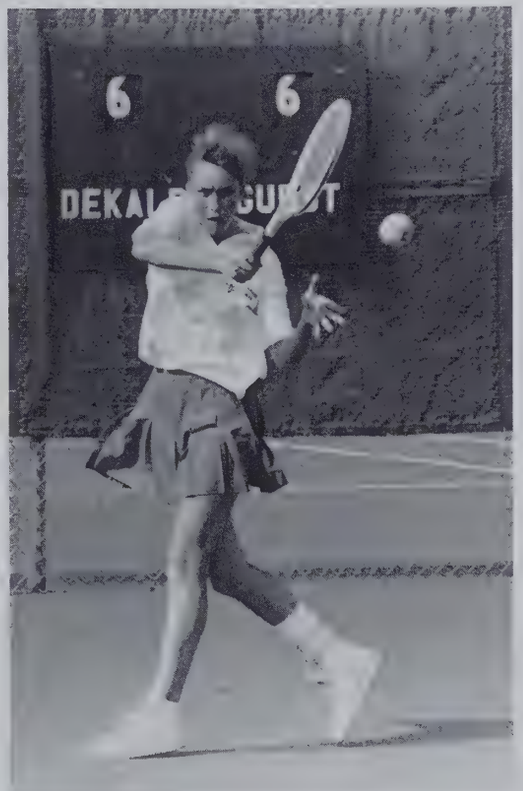
"Not only through our many practices and matches did we learn to work hard, we learned to be very supportive of one another throughout the season."

— Anne Roberts

"I think we had a good season considering we had a lot of novice tennis players against some really tough competition. If we practice really hard this summer and next spring, we can reach our goal of winning sectional, and accomplish anything we set our minds to."

— Jill Norris





With the score tied, sophomore varsity player Lisa Wrona, above, hits the ball in attempt to put her in the lead.

Carrying through with her swing, junior Anne Roberts concentrates on sending the ball to the opposing side during a varsity match.

Sports Talk

"Senior leadership was a key to our success. I hope the juniors can fill the places left by the seniors, and continue in our tradition of success."

— Tom Findley

"Baseball has taught me a lot about teamwork and cooperating with others. We had a tough season this year, but Coach Jones kept us working hard and with intensity. No matter what your record is at the end of the year, what's important is that you gave 110% for the results."

— Scott Allison

"Being a junior and playing behind seniors, I didn't see a lot of playing time. The season was so off and on that we had fun sometimes, and other times, well . . . let's just say we didn't have fun."

— Matt Bishop

"I feel my most memorable moment would have been against 5th ranked Snider when I hit a double to left center for the game winning run. I would like to thank the coaches, seniors, and underclassmen for all they have done."

Baseball has come to symbolize spring, and DeKalb is no exception. For the Barons, spring began on Tuesday, April 3, 1990. Unfortunately, it rained the first day of spring, and baseball was delayed until the next day when the Barons defeated Prairie Heights with a score of 13-6. The winning tradition was continued until the Barons were defeated by Blackford in the second game of a double header.

The rainy weather was an obstacle the Barons worked to overcome. Three games, including a double header against Bishop Dwenger, were cancelled, and many practices were delayed or rescheduled.

The leading pitcher for the baseball team was Ron Dobson. During the 51.7 innings he pitched, he had a total of 51 strike outs. With 35.3 innings pitched and 34 strike outs, Scott Bebout ranked second in both of these categories. Tom Findley had the highest batting average of .417 followed by Ken Jones and Jim Leslie with .384 and .378, respectively. Having 35 hits, Ken Jones led in doubles with 8. With 28 hits, Tom Findley accumulated 6 triples and 6 homeruns.

The Baron baseball team ended their season in their first game of sectional competition. They were defeated by Eastside with a score of 2-3. Ending their season with a winning record, the DeKalb baseball team had a record of 16-10.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF SPORTS

Dedication on the field and off is required of both reserve teams: baseball and softball. Not only is hardwork necessary on the field, but long strenuous practices are demanded before the games ever come.

The reserve baseball team enjoyed their season. The team's strongest pitcher was Todd Armstrong followed by Brian Finn and Bob Sweeney. The leading batter was Shane Marshall with an average of .500. Other leaders were Chad Ginder and Grant Detrick.

The reserve softball team also had an action filled season. Their hard work paid off by earning a total of five wins. Equally, they also lost five games. The leading hitter for the Lady Barons was Sonya Holmes with an average of .517. Ericka Rathburn led in stolen bases by stealing 26. Tiffany Cook and Rita Smith were noted for having outstanding defense.

Sports Talk

"One thing I can say is that we all knew how to have fun while we were playing. I think we had a good season, even though we had problems that had to be worked out in the team. Next year should be an even better season."

— Rita Smith

"It was a rough year. We had a lot of young players; you could tell by the way we played. I think by next year we will be a better team because we have a lot of talent. We just have to learn to use it."

— Jason Leslie

"The most memorable moment we had this year was when we were playing New Haven. The score was 12-1 and we were winning in the 4th inning. We started slacking off and they came back to beat us 12-13. We were all quite upset. On the way home Mr. Blackburn took us to the drive-thru at Dairy Queen (in the bus) and bought all 19 of us all ice cream cones."

— Tami Doden

"I didn't think we did too bad this season. There were several freshmen on the team. We spent a lot of time getting used to one another. Next year, though, should be better."

— Chris Sweeney

Sports Talk

"The softball team was great. I think this year was our best year because we were all friends and we played as a team."

— Kerrie Quickery

"Even though our season wasn't as successful as I hoped it would be, I feel that we accomplished far more than can be seen by looking at our final record. In the end we succeeded in pulling together as a team."

— Angie Quickery

"In past years the softball team has had difficulties getting along with each other, but this year we really worked as a team. I would really like to thank my teammates for always being there for me, and thank the seniors for their ability to lead the team throughout the year."

— Jenni Dunn

Senior pitching ace Angie Quickery releases another of her "rockets" toward the plate. She allowed only 12 earned runs for an .882 ERA.

Fielding her defensive position well, catcher Jacqui Wallace holds the ball safely in her glove. Wallace helped give the team senior leadership.

Softball season started with great expectations, with everyone hoping to repeat as conference and sectional champs. But it wasn't to be. Although they finished 14-5, their conference record was just 3-3, with Garrett being the only non-NHC team to beat the Barons. They were shut out only once — by East Noble in the opening round of the sectional.

All of the pitching chores were shared by the Quickery sisters, Angie and Kerrie. Angie, the senior, pitched 95 innings on her way to a 10-5 record and an outstanding .882 ERA. She struck out 124 of the 381 batters that she faced, giving up only 39 hits and 35 walks. Kerrie, the sophomore, had an ERA of 2.26 to go with her 4-0 record. She struck out 38 and walked 15 in 31 innings.

The team needed good pitching because their offense was not very strong. It got weaker when Julie McKean broke her ankle mid-season and her .563 batting average was gone from the line-up. Of the other regular players only Angie Quickery (.393) and Joy Kroemer (.382) batted over .300 for the year.

The team often manufactured runs, using the sacrifice (Jenny Holt and Julie Whittington tied for the team lead with 5) and taking advantage of the opposition's defensive weaknesses.

Sports Talk

"This year's track team had something special that is hard to find on a lot of track teams and that was team unity. We always pulled together in tough times, and I feel this is why we were so successful this year. It's been fun running with you guys the past few years and I wish all of you luck next year."

— Paul Richardson

"The past four years in track have been some of the best in my life. Even though track is only a few months out of the year, everyone feels a certain bond to each other during the season. As for my feelings toward the team, I consider them my family. I will miss them all. Out of the four years this one was the best of them all. Thanks for the memories; may you have many more like them."

— Dari West

"The season seemed long while practicing in the winter but when the meets started it almost went too fast. We had a lot of talent on this year's team, but I don't think we could have done as well as we did if it wasn't for our coaches and for the fact that we all got along with each other so well."

— Dwayne Leininger

Headed for state, Kirk Sells, below, is far ahead of the competition as he easily clears another of the low hurdles in a meet held early in the season.

Chris Dove, far below, runs easily at the head of the pack as they round the first turn in the meet against Norwell and Columbia City.

The strain of throwing the shot shows on the face of Cal Bowers, whose school-record-setting toss at the Wayne Regional qualified him for the state meet.

Go!" Ivor Finnegan yells to Brad Peart after handing ff to him in the first exchange of the 4X100 meter elay, a challenging event for the Barons in 1990.

The boy's track team had a very successful season, placing second in the conference. Defeated only by Homestead in regular meets and in the NHC, the boys had many record-setting performances. Chad Sorg ran the 400 meter dash in 50.9 seconds at the Wayne sectional. The 1600 meter relay team of Chad Sorg, Josh Hower, Chad Wolff, and Kirk Sells broke their own record with a time of 3:25.13 at the Wayne regional. Cal Bowers threw the shot 55'6½" at the Wayne regional. And Kirk Sells ran the high hurdles in 14 seconds flat at the North Side Relays. Sells also established a new mark in the 300 lows when he was clocked in 38.4 at the Wayne regional, marking the third time he had lowered that record.

Seven of the team's members went to the regional, including Kirk Sells in the high and low hurdles, Cal Bowers in the shot put, Chad Wolff in the 800 meter run, Jeremy Shankster and Chris Dove in the 1600 meter run, and the 1600 meter relay team of Sorg, Hower, Wolff, and Sells. They scored enough points to place the team fourth out of 52 teams in the regional.

Kirk Sells and Cal Bowers were state qualifiers in the high and low hurdles and the shot put, with Sells being regional champ in the lows.

In the Northeast Hoosier Conference, first team honors went to Sells in both hurdle events, the 1600 relay team, and Paul Richardson in the 3200 meter run.

THE WIDE WIDE WORLD OF TRACK

The girls' track team had a rough season with a lot of changes in old procedures. The team's new coaches decided to begin practicing the girls' and boys' teams together. Though the team's record was not outstanding, most of its members agree that they had a successful season.

Cheryl Conrad, a freshman, set a school record in the 3200 meter run with a time of 13:30.6. The team was ranked 7th at the NHC meet, placing in six events. Michelle Amburgey placed first in the 300 hurdles, second in the 100 hurdles, and fourth in the 100 meter dash; Tammy Wolff placed sixth in the 400 meter dash; Kelly Morrow placed sixth in the 200 meter dash; and the 1600 meter relay team (Wolff, Darlene Schoudel, Liberty Scholler, and Jennifer Barnhart) placed sixth.

Sectional qualifiers were Stacy Taylor in the 200, Stef Schlosser in the 100 hurdles, and Michelle Amburgey in the 100 and 300 hurdles, the 100 meter dash, the shot put, and the discus. Advancing from the sectional to the regional, Amburgey placed second at regional to qualify for the state meet in the 300 meter hurdles.

"This year of track was one of learning and change. We had a rough season starting out but we worked hard and had a lot of determination to improve and we did. There were a lot of changes this year with the new coaches and practicing with the boys but in the long run it helped us a lot. I would like to thank all the coaches for all their help."

— Tammy Wolff

"This was a really good track season for everyone. I am very grateful to the coaches for that. They helped us all feel better about ourselves and everything we do, and as a result of their guidance we had a more successful track year."

— Stacy Taylor

"I really enjoyed the track season this year. Although our record wasn't as good as our team had wished, I thought we had a pretty good season. Everyone worked hard and brought their times down. We had a lot of support from all the guys also, and I think practicing with them really helped a lot. Looking on to next year I think we will have a strong team because we have many of the underclassmen returning."

AUBURN FIRE DEPARTMENT

Ninth and Cedar Streets
AUBURN, INDIANA 46706
219-925-1500

The word "FIRE" spreads fear through the bravest individual. Your fire department knows the awesome effect that flames, heat, and smoke can do to life and property. Check your home's heating system, electrical system, basement for flammables, batteries in smoke/heat alarms, fire extinguishers, and two exits out of the structure.

The Auburn Fire Department wishes a happy future to members of the Class of 1990.

Graduation — can it be true? Yes! 1990 has arrived and with it a bright future opens up before our lovely young woman. Take the keys of love, knowledge & faith, which will open any door, and move forward to meet your destiny.

Much love,
Mom, Dad & Eric

JOHN HIGH

Congratulations!
You made it and we are very proud of you.

Love,
Dad & Mom

TUNE IN TO

"The Most Important Nine Months of Your Life" was Dr. Sam Rhine's topic for a special convo about birth defects.

With construction fences in place, DHS stands ready for the extensive building project that was started in the spring.

Tammy Ellert dances as one of the Ladies of the Court as they sing "The Lusty Month of May" in the musical "Camelot."

As the school year came to a close, it was clear to everyone that changes were being made. Principal D.D. Fites and Superintendent Dr. James Watson had both announced their retirement.

Even more obvious changes were being made to the building. As the multi-million dollar expansion project got underway, construction fences went up and many of us had much longer walks to make from the parking lot. The offices and media center were moved upstairs to allow the construction work to begin.

By the conclusion of the year, many of WDHS's award-winning programs had continued success as well as gaining new recognition, such as the Super Bowl English Team going to state in its first year of competition. Most programs had their options renewed for another year, although many of the actors, stars, and directors might not be the same.

Moving on into the 90's was a continuing challenge for all of us as we came to the end of the current broadcast year of being TUNED IN TO WDHS.

Gaining valuable experience in the workplace, Diane Schoudel pauses in her filing work in the personnel department at the Auburn Foundry, part of her Office Lab class assignment.

"Give me five!" Tom Findley is congratulated by his teammates after hitting a homerun for the Barons.

Proud of their accomplishments in woods, these young men pose with their finished products: Jason Snyder, William Hughes, Ryan David, and Nevin Treesh.

Thanks

The staff of the 1990 SABER would like to thank those people who helped to produce this yearbook: Mr. Mark Childs, the representative for the Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, for his expert guidance; Studio One, the senior photographer; Lifetouch National School Studios, the underclass photographer; the many companies and sponsors who provided financial assistance; and our teachers, friends, and families who gave help and understanding, especially around deadline time.

For Tuning In

The 1990 SABER is 9 X 12 and contains 212 pages. The cover is a litho cover with a special design planned by staff members. The cover is laminated. The end sheets are teal with a scarlet design, also planned by the staff. The type face is Lydian in 10 point for body copy and 8 point for picture captions with Lydian Bold for emphasis. Several different headline styles are used throughout the book.
